

Email response received 11 August 2005 from Mr Brian Vaughton.

Dear Sir/Madam

1. Yes
2. Yes
3. Yes
4. Yes
5. Yes
6. Undesirable. The granting of a WT Act licence is a privilege that has to be earned. To have WT Act licence exemption would devalue the whole concept of being an amateur radio operator.
7. Although willing to agree to the Ofcom proposal for 'licences for life', the alternative of, say, a 10 year licence would perhaps be of benefit to Ofcom in maintaining close regulation of the system.
8. Yes - too much unnecessary paperwork in this electronic age.
9. Yes - due to the extra work involved.

Yours sincerely

Brian Vaughton GOHRH