

Do those that are making this decision not want to watch HD T.V? At least they have the choice. I believe HD programming should be available to all and everyone should have a choice. Also, considering Television was invented in this country, it would be a shame to fall behind America, Japan and many other countries by only having inferior picture quality.

---