

The only reason that Analogue Television should be replaced by Digital television is that the quality of the broadcasts will be better. This includes the introduction of HD Television on the frequencies that will become unused at Analogue switch off. That is on the Freeview platform.

The selling of these spare frequencies should not be allowed until all the current national broadcasters have HD frequencies allocated to them.

Many people have purchased HD ready televisions and to deny them HD on Freeview would be dishonest.