

Sir

I would like to support the proposal the "freeview" be allowed to broadcast in the High Definition format

I feel the I would be a missed opportunity if the BBC ITV etc were not given the space needed to broadcast in this format and that the British electronic manufacturers could loose out on a much needed boost

I am holding off buying a new TV as there are very few HD sources available and or more freeview boxes at lease until the switch over and then it will be with reluctance not because I am against the switch over but because I feel that if I buy now and freeview HD is made available I will have wasted the money spent.

I also live in hope the TV makes get off their collective backsides and make more digital TV sets and recorders that will not need to be changed again in the future.

As to the proposal that the Mobil phone companies be allowed to have more space why TV on my phone no thanks leave TV where it should be in the home.

Thank you
