

In my opinion it is essential that HDTV be shown amongst the channels on Freeview and that SKY, and the like, should not be the only providers of HDTV. Should those in power dictate that HDTV can only be obtained by the current operators then the TV licence fee should be abolished. It is obvious that HDTV will replace TV as we know it – digital or analogue – therefore a sensible decision is imperative.