Comments:

I am concerned at any proposal to end FM broadcasting in band 2. With the advent of digital radio a great opportunity was lost when it was allowed to go for quantity of broadcasters at the expense of quality. Non of the digital radio channels broadcasts sound quality that is as good as that on FM, only BBC radio 3 comes close. It will be doing the listening public a disservice if this dumbing down process is allowed to continue simply in order to provide more advertising time.
