

List of figures

Figure 1.1: Availability of digital communications services	17
Figure 1.2: Geographic coverage of mobile services by postal district	18
Figure 1.3: Availability of digital cable and digital terrestrial television, DTT	19
Figure 1.4: DAB digital radio coverage 2006	20
Figure 1.5: Spin-off channel launches from the five main channels	21
Figure 1.6: Channel availability	21
Figure 1.7: Multichannel share of viewing in multichannel homes, 2001 – 2005	22
Figure 1.8: Radio stations launching on the national DAB multiplex	22
Figure 1.9: Attitudes to downloads that are currently classified 'illegal'	24
Figure 1.10: Real cost of average household telecoms consumption	28
Figure 1.11: Average UK residential broadband subscription prices	28
Figure 1.12: Adoption curve for communications services and devices, Q1 2006	29
Figure 1.13: TV penetration - all TV households and digital TV households	30
Figure 1.14: Take-up of other household audiovisual devices	31
Figure 1.15: Availability and penetration of digital services	31
Figure 1.16: The evolution of communications service bundling	33
Figure 1.17: UK communications retail sector revenue	34
Figure 1.18: Analysis of UK telecoms retail sector revenue	34
Figure 1.19: TV revenue 2001 to 2005	35
Figure 1.20: Radio industry revenues	35
Figure 1.21: Growth of UK broadcasting net advertising revenue	36
Figure 1.22: UK advertising spend by medium	36
Figure 1.23: Telecoms and media sector share index	37
Figure 1.24: PE ratio and dividend yield in media and telecoms sectors	37
Figure 1.25: Average monthly household communications spend	38
Figure 1.26: Change in real household communications spend (2004 to 2005)	39
Figure 1.27: Weekly communications consumption	39
Figure 1.28: Weekly communications consumption by age group	40
Figure 1.29: Use of entertainment devices in the home	41
Figure 1.30: Average weekly reach of television (2001 – 2005)	41
Figure 1.31: Channel share by month for 16-24 age group (all homes, all day)	42
Figure 1.32: Change in percentage share of viewing to terrestrial channels	42
Figure 1.33: Change in radio listening between March 2001 and March 2006	43
Figure 1.34: Reduced consumption resulting from increased internet use	43
Figure 1.35: UK spectrum use weighted by frequency (weighted)	44
Figure 2.1: Digital share by platform	52
Figure 2.2: Analogue versus digital listening share	53
Figure 2.3: The most listened to digital-only stations	53
Figure 2.4: Number of analogue radio station licences awarded	54
Figure 2.5: UK radio stations broadcasting on analogue and DAB digital radio June 2006 (excluding community radio)	54
Figure 2.6: FM radio licence awards, January 2005 – July 2006	55
Figure 2.7: Community radio licence awards, May 2006	56
Figure 2.8: Location of the UK's community radio stations	57
Figure 2.9: BBC online listening during March 2006	58
Figure 2.10: UK commercial radio revenue and BBC radio spending*	61
Figure 2.11: Commercial analogue net broadcasting revenue share	62

Figure 2.12: UK radio advertising spend and share of display advertising 2001-2006	62
Figure 2.13: Number of commercial stations owned by group, Q1 2006	63
Figure 2.14: Share of commercial listening hours	64
Figure 2.15: Average commercial radio revenue per listener and per listening hour	64
Figure 2.16: Average revenue per listener / listener hour by local station TSA	65
Figure 2.17: Map of the BBC's analogue radio stations	66
Figure 2.18: BBC radio share Percentage of listening hours	67
Figure 2.19: Commercial radio station by group	68
Figure 2.20: Map of GCap Media's analogue radio stations	69
Figure 2.21: Map of Chrysalis' analogue radio stations	70
Figure 2.22: Map of Emap's analogue radio stations	71
Figure 2.23: Map of GMG's analogue radio stations	72
Figure 2.24: Map of Saga's analogue radio stations	73
Figure 2.25: Map of The Local Radio Company's analogue radio stations	74
Figure 2.26: Map of UBC's analogue radio stations	75
Figure 2.27: Map of UTV's analogue radio stations	76
Figure 2.28: UK DAB coverage	77
Figure 2.29: Availability of local commercial DAB stations	78
Figure 2.30: DAB population coverage by nation	78
Figure 2.31: BBC UK networks' DAB coverage	79
Figure 2.32: Commercial DAB coverage	79
Figure 2.33: Commercial local and regional DAB multiplexes	80
Figure 2.34: BBC stations on local and regional DAB multiplexes	81
Figure 2.35: Map of AM radio stations	82
Figure 2.36: FM commercial local radio station locations	83
Figure 2.37: Timetable for the advertisement of new FM licences	84
Figure 2.38: Number of short-term RSLs	84
Figure 2.39: Reasons for running a short-term RSL 2003-2005	85
Figure 2.40: Reasons for running a long term RSL	86
Figure 2.41: How many radio sets do you have in your household?	87
Figure 2.42: Penetration of equipment capable of receiving digital radio	87
Figure 2.43: Likelihood of purchasing a DAB digital radio in the next 6 months	88
Figure 2.44: Number of DAB digital radio sets sold	89
Figure 2.45: How many DAB radio sets do you have in your household?	89
Figure 2.46: Change in average price of DAB digital radio receivers	90
Figure 2.47: Number of DAB models available in the UK	90
Figure 2.48: Reach of radio by sector	91
Figure 2.49: Reach of radio by age group	92
Figure 2.50: Reach falls in 15-34 age groups 2001 – 2006	92
Figure 2.51: Share of listening hours by sector	93
Figure 2.52: Competition of weekly hours of listening by age 2000/01 – 2005/06	94
Figure 2.53: Profile of audience by age for different station types	94
Figure 2.54: Changes in hours 2000/01 – 2005/06 by age group and station type	95
Figure 2.55: Share of listening by platform	95
Figure 2.56: How often do you access the radio via:	96
Figure 2.57: Digital-only listening	96
Figure 2.58: BBC digital-only stations	97
Figure 2.59: Commercial digital-only stations	97
Figure 2.60: Patterns of listening across the day	98

Figure 2.61: Breakfast-time reach of national stations	98
Figure 2.62: Location of listening	99
Figure 2.63: Demographic profile of overall listening	99
Figure 2.64: Positioning of national radio stations/brands	100
Figure 2.65: Listeners' satisfaction with radio content	100
Figure 2.66: How satisfied are you with the coverage of the following local issues and events on the radio?	101
Figure 2.67: In an average week how many different radio stations do you choose to listen to?	101
Figure 2.68: How satisfied are you with the choice of radio stations available in your area?	102
Figure 2.69: Share of listening hours by nation	103
Figure 2.70: How often have you found radio to be offensive?	104
Figure 2.71: Action taken as a result of offence	104
Figure 3.1: Real price of a basket of residential telecoms services	108
Figure 3.2: Internet connections by type	109
Figure 3.3: Trials or launches of IPTV services during 2005 and 2006	113
Figure 3.4: Unbundled local loops	117
Figure 3.5: Comparison of average broadband prices over time	119
Figure 3.6: Comparison of broadband offerings by major ISPs	120
Figure 3.7: Number of bundled households for broadband/fixed-line and broadband/fixed-line/pay-TV services	123
Figure 3.8: Proportion of bundled services by type	124
Figure 3.9: Most popular UK VoIP offerings	127
Figure 3.10: New UK VoIP offerings	128
Figure 3.11: UK 3G subscriptions	130
Figure 3.12: Comparison of various 3G overlay technologies	132
Figure 3.13: UK telecoms industry revenue	135
Figure 3.14: Share of 2005 UK telecoms industry revenue (retail and wholesale)	136
Figure 3.15: UK telecoms industry retail revenue	137
Figure 3.16: Telecoms retail revenue growth 2004-2005	137
Figure 3.17: Mobile contribution to total voice market	138
Figure 3.18: Share of total UK telecoms connections	138
Figure 3.19: Total telecoms connections	139
Figure 3.20: Fixed telecoms lines	139
Figure 3.21: Fixed telecoms call volumes	140
Figure 3.22: Average UK fixed telecoms call revenues	140
Figure 3.23: Average revenue per fixed line	141
Figure 3.24: Fixed voice telecoms revenue	141
Figure 3.25: Factors affecting reduction in fixed voice revenue	142
Figure 3.26: Non-geographic fixed voice call revenue	142
Figure 3.27: Carrier pre-selection enabled lines	143
Figure 3.28: Proportion of lines taking non-BT voice services	144
Figure 3.29: Market share of fixed voice call volumes	144
Figure 3.30: Factors affecting reduction in BT fixed line revenue	145
Figure 3.31: UK residential and small business internet connections	146
Figure 3.32: Internet and broadband service provision revenues	146
Figure 3.33: Broadband connections	147
Figure 3.34: UK broadband service provision: share of retail subscribers	147
Figure 3.35: Mobile retail revenue	148
Figure 3.36: Mobile active customers	149
Figure 3.37: Mobile ARPU	149
Figure 3.38: Average mobile termination revenue	150
Figure 3.39: Average mobile retail call and message revenue	151

Figure 3.40: Active mobile subscriptions by network operator	151
Figure 3.41: Estimated retail revenue by network operator	152
Figure 3.42: Business telecoms services revenue	152
Figure 3.43: Market share of business fixed-line voice call volumes	153
Figure 3.44: Corporate data service revenue forecasts	155
Figure 3.45: Average household spending on telecoms services	156
Figure 3.46: Household penetration of telecoms technologies	157
Figure 3.47: Household penetration of fixed and mobile telephony	158
Figure 3.48: Main method of making and receiving calls among UK adults	158
Figure 3.49: Average voice minutes per residential fixed line	159
Figure 3.50: Average minutes per active mobile connection	159
Figure 3.51: Average messaging use per active mobile connection	160
Figure 3.52: BT share of residential call volumes	161
Figure 3.53: Real price of a basket of residential fixed voice services	162
Figure 3.54: Real price of a basket of contract mobile services	162
Figure 3.55: Comparison of average fixed and mobile call charges	163
Figure 3.56: Residential consumer satisfaction with fixed and mobile services	163
Figure 3.57: Average monthly mobile data service use per customer	164
Figure 3.58: Internet and PC penetration in UK homes	164
Figure 3.59: Broadband and narrowband penetration in internet homes	165
Figure 3.60: Awareness of contention ratio	167
Figure 3.61: Awareness of contention ratio	167
Figure 3.62: Awareness of usage cap	168
Figure 3.63: Reasons for not having the internet at home	169
Figure 3.64: Frequency of internet access	169
Figure 3.65: Location of internet access	170
Figure 3.66: On-line applications used by broadband and dial-up users	170
Figure 3.67: Number of legal UK music downloads	171
Figure 3.68: Top 20 websites by visitors, April 2006	172
Figure 3.69: Reach of popular social networking websites, quarter ending May 2006	172
Figure 3.70: Use of social networking websites	173
Figure 3.71: Use of websites for keeping up contacts	173
Figure 3.72: Posting content online by age group	174
Figure 3.73: Frequency of posting comments	175
Figure 3.74: Website and weblog owners by gender and age group	175
Figure 3.75: Reasons for owning a webpage or a weblog	176
Figure 3.76: Satisfaction with aspects of internet service	177
Figure 3.77: Penetration of mobile telephony among SMEs	177
Figure 3.78: Average voice call volumes per business fixed line	178
Figure 3.79: Average voice call volumes per business fixed line	178
Figure 3.80: SME switching of fixed and mobile suppliers	179
Figure 3.81: SME satisfaction with fixed and mobile services	179
Figure 3.82: SME internet access by main connection method	180
Figure 3.83: SME satisfaction with aspects of internet service	180
Figure 4.1: The mainstream channels' spin-off channel launches	186
Figure 4.2: The 20 channels that gained most percentage point share in 2005	187
Figure 4.3: Multichannel penetration in the UK	188
Figure 4.4: Channel shares on Freeview	188
Figure 4.5: Sky+ subscribers	189
Figure 4.6: Local storage options available or planned	190
Figure 4.7: On-demand internet-based content services available or planned	190

Figure 4.8:	On-demand mobile content services available or planned	192
Figure 4.9:	Licences issued by Ofcom and the previous regulator (ITC)	193
Figure 4.10:	Television licences awarded in 2005	194
Figure 4.11:	Comparison of the two high-definition services	194
Figure 4.12:	The timetable for digital switchover	196
Figure 4.13:	Reasons for not switching to digital television	197
Figure 4.14:	Number of sets per home	197
Figure 4.15:	Awareness of 'digital switchover' and awareness of the need to switch all sets	198
Figure 4.16:	Plans to convert television sets	198
Figure 4.17:	ITV's estimated cost for a channel slot on Freeview	200
Figure 4.18:	Total TV industry revenue by source	204
Figure 4.19:	Total TV industry revenue by sector	205
Figure 4.20:	Net advertising revenue by sector	205
Figure 4.21:	TV advertising market share - 2005	206
Figure 4.22:	Breakdown of non-broadcast revenue	206
Figure 4.23:	Simplified flow of funds in the TV industry, 2005 (2004 in italics)	207
Figure 4.24:	Total and originated hours of output	208
Figure 4.25:	Investment in network programmes £m	209
Figure 4.26:	Hours of originated output on the five main channels	209
Figure 4.27:	Investment in originated output on the five main networks	210
Figure 4.28:	Cost per hour for originated content on the five main networks	210
Figure 4.29:	Hours of originated output by the five mainstream networks in peak time and all day	211
Figure 4.30:	PSB genre mix in peak time	211
Figure 4.31:	PSB genre mix in daytime	212
Figure 4.32:	The BBC's digital channels	213
Figure 4.33:	The five main networks' genre mix in peak-time	214
Figure 4.34:	Genre concentration curves for the five main networks in peak time	215
Figure 4.35:	The five main networks' genre mix in daytime	216
Figure 4.36:	Hours of output on channels available on multichannel platforms	216
Figure 4.37:	Multichannel originations	217
Figure 4.38:	Investment in content by channels only available in multichannel homes (source: operator returns and Ofcom analysis)	218
Figure 4.39:	Broadcasters' performance against original production quotas	220
Figure 4.40:	Broadcasters' performance against regional production quotas	221
Figure 4.41:	Breakdown of expenditure on production, by broadcaster and macro-region, 2004 and 2005	222
Figure 4.42:	Percentage of qualifying hours commissioned from independent producers, 2004 and 2005	223
Figure 4.43:	Percentage of qualifying hours commissioned from independent producers, by genre, 2005	223
Figure 4.44:	Percentage of peak-time qualifying hours commissioned from independent producers, excluding regional programmes, 2004	224
Figure 4.45:	Broadcasters' performance against news quotas, all day and peak time, 2004 and 2005	225
Figure 4.46:	Broadcasters' performance against current affairs quotas, all day and peak time, 2004 and 2005	225
Figure 4.47:	The BBC's performance against regional programming quotas, hours per year, 2004	226
Figure 4.48:	The ITV1 licensees' performance against regional	226

	programming quotas, 2004 and 2005
Figure 4.49:	Proportion of repeats in the PSBs' schedules, all day, excluding programmes shown first on another channel 2005	227
Figure 4.50:	Proportion of repeats in peak time, excluding programmes shown first on another channel, 2004 and 2005	228
Figure 4.51:	Broadcasters' performance against European programming (TVWF Directive) requirements, 2005	229
Figure 4.52:	Broadcasters' performance against access services requirements, 2005	230
Figure 4.53:	PSB's audience share in all homes	233
Figure 4.54:	The share performance of the five main networks by day part	234
Figure 4.55:	BBC portfolio share in all homes	234
Figure 4.56:	ITV's portfolio share in all homes	235
Figure 4.57:	Channel 4's portfolio share in all homes	235
Figure 4.58:	Channel share by platform	236
Figure 4.59:	Broadcaster shares in multichannel homes	237
Figure 4.60:	BBC portfolio share in multichannel homes	237
Figure 4.61:	ITV portfolio share in multichannel homes	238
Figure 4.62:	Channel 4's portfolio share in multichannel homes	238
Figure 4.63:	BSkyB's portfolio share in multichannel homes	239
Figure 4.64:	Comparison of BSkyB share by channel in 2005 and 2001	239
Figure 4.65:	UKTV portfolio share in multichannel homes	240
Figure 4.66:	Comparison of UKTV share by channel in 2001 and 2005	240
Figure 4.67:	Total investment in originated production in the UK	241
Figure 4.68:	Spend on commissions by the five main networks	241
Figure 4.69:	Reported production revenue by main office location	242
Figure 4.70:	Independent production company turnover by revenue band	242
Figure 4.71:	The top 15 ranked independent production companies by revenue	243
Figure 4.72:	Sources of revenue by genre and rights category	244
Figure 4.73:	Consolidation in the independent production sector in 2005/06	245
Figure 4.74:	Exports by value and territory	246
Figure 4.75:	Independently produced programme exports by genre	246
Figure 4.76:	Availability of digital television platforms	247
Figure 4.77:	Availability of lower reach digital television platforms by nation	247
Figure 4.78:	Services delivered over digital television platforms	248
Figure 4.79:	Channel availability by platform	249
Figure 4.80:	DTV take-up	250
Figure 4.81:	Drivers of digital television take-up in 2005	250
Figure 4.82:	Methods of receiving television on the main set	251
Figure 4.83:	Methods of television reception – all sets	251
Figure 4.84:	Estimated monthly spend on pay TV	252
Figure 4.85:	Likelihood of continuing with subscription	252
Figure 4.86:	Likelihood of getting multichannel television in next six months	253
Figure 4.87:	Analysis of those without digital television	253
Figure 4.88:	Analysis of the reasons why those without digital television don't want it	254
Figure 4.89:	Platform demographics	254
Figure 4.90:	The profile of the television viewing audience in 2005 by day part	255
Figure 4.91:	The profile by day part and by age	256
Figure 4.92:	The weekend audience profile by day part and by age	256
Figure 4.93:	Weekly TV reach in all homes (15 minutes, all day)	257
Figure 4.94:	Weekly TV reach by age in all homes (15 mins, all day)	257
Figure 4.95:	Weekly TV reach in multichannel homes (15 mins, all day)	258

Figure 4.96: Weekly TV reach in multichannel homes by age (15 mins, all day)	258
Figure 4.97: Channel shares in all homes since 1955	259
Figure 4.98: Five main networks' shares on different platforms	259
Figure 4.99: Channel shares in multichannel homes	260
Figure 4.100: Channel shares in Freeview homes	260
Figure 4.101: Aggregate share of channel genres in multi-channel homes	261
Figure 4.102: The aggregate share of the most popular Entertainment channels	262
Figure 4.103: The aggregate share of children's channels	262
Figure 4.104: Factual channels aggregate share in multichannel homes	263
Figure 4.105: The aggregate share of music channels	263
Figure 4.106: News channels	264
Figure 4.107: The 2005 top 20 winners and losers of share	265
Figure 4.108: The top twenty-four channel ranking for 2005	266
Figure 4.109: Age and demographic profile of multichannel services	267
Figure 4.110: Opinions about the changing quality of television programmes	268
Figure 4.111: Trends in levels of reported offence	268
Figure 4.112: Attitudes toward levels of sex, violence, swearing and intrusion on television	269
Figure 4.113: Sources of news in the local area	269
Figure 4.114: Sources of national news for each nation	270
Figure 4.115: Sources of UK news	270
Figure 4.116: Sources of world news	271
Figure 4.117: Attitudes to the impartiality of news	271
Figure 4.118: Viewing of early evening national news bulletins	272
Figure 4.119: Viewing of late evening news bulletins	272
Figure 4.120: Viewing of regional news	273
Figure 4.121: Concern over children's exposure to different types of media content	273
Figure 4.122: Reasons for regulating television	274
Figure 4.123: Perceived division of responsibility for protecting children from unsuitable material	274
Figure 4.124: Respondents' stated concern with different pre-watershed shows or content	275
Figure 4.125: How often parents switchover or switch off main terrestrial programming when they feel it is unsuitable for their children	275
Figure 4.126: Age group of most concern	276
Figure 4.127: Opinions about the 9pm watershed	276
Figure 4.128: Approval scores for current funding mechanisms	277
Figure 4.129: Trends in attitudes to advertising (terrestrial only)	278
Figure 4.130: Trends in attitudes to advertising (non-terrestrial only)	278