

Appendix CMembership of the Spectrum Management Advisory Group (SMAG)

Dr John R Forrest (Chairman) is a non-executive Director of 3i Group plc, and has recently been made Chairman of the Aerial Group. Has wide experience of the broadcast, communications and information sectors. Was Director of Engineering at the Independent Broadcasting Authority from 1986 and led the privatisation of the IBA Engineering Division, becoming Chief Executive of the new organisation, NTL, of which he was Deputy Chairman from 1994 to 1996.

David M Brown is Chairman of Motorola UK Ltd. Well-known and influential engineer with many years' experience of electronics manufacturing who is involved in a number of Government initiatives aimed at improving competitiveness and the shortage of radio engineering skills. Actively involved with IEE and CBI and currently President of the Federation of Electronic Industries (FEI).

Professor Martin Cave is pro-vice chancellor at Brunel University a member of the Competition Commission and consultant to OFTEL.

Keith Harlow was until recently the Director of Technology, BBC resources. He is a leading expert in digital broadcasting technologies.

David Hendon is Chief Executive of the Radiocommunications Agency He has wide experience of public sector radio use, having previously worked in Home Office and MoD.

Dr Mohamed Ibrahim is Chairman and founder of Mobile Systems International. Has a wide knowledge of the international scene and is a Director of Companies in Hong Kong, India, Uganda and Egypt.

Stephen Lowe is Product Development Director of Eurobell Holding plc, a leading UK cable operator. He is Deputy Chairman of the Broadband Wireless Association and a leading player in the development of broadband fixed access which is expected to be the next major new radio-based technology.

Michael Short. Mike's career spans 26 years in Electronics and Telecommunications, with the last 13 years in Mobile communications. He was appointed Contracts Director of Cellnet in 1989.

He was elected Chairman of the GSM Association for 1995/96, and served on its Executive Board for 3 years.

Mike's focus today is on 3rd Generation cellular systems. He also is a member of the UK FEI Board and was elected Chairman of the UK Mobile Data Association for 1999/2000.

Andrew C Sleigh is Director General of Information and Communication Services in the Ministry of Defence. He has overall responsibility for radio policy within the MoD, who manage around 30% of the spectrum up to 30GHz. With David Hendon is joint Chairman of the UK Spectrum Strategy Committee.

Dr Camelia Gabriel is founder and Director of Microwave Consultants Ltd. Her research interests cover the biological effects of electromagnetic radiation. She is active in National and European Committees on safe exposure to electromagnetic fields.

Professor Leela Damodaran is Director and research psychologist, HUSAT Research Institute, Loughborough University. She is also a Director of a small business owned by her husband. She has undertaken a range of consultancy projects in the IT, Telecomms and broadcasting field.