Dear Steve

Further to the discussions between BT and Ofcom for IPStream, I am writing to confirm our intentions around the introduction of the IPStream Connect product. Whilst the dates required by the variation to the Undertakings for IPStream Connect to be available for order and IBMC are 31 October 2008 and 31 March 2009 respectively, I can confirm that it is still our intention to work towards the dates of 31 July and 31 December 2008 originally agreed.

We currently have a high level of confidence in our ability to meet that date. We will obviously keep you informed of progress on the development of the product as it progresses.

Yours sincerely
