Additional comments:

Question 1: Do you agree that copy management would broaden the range of HD content available on DTT and help secure its long term viability as a platform? :

No, I do not agree that it would help secure the platform's long term viability.

Question 2: Do you agree that the BBC's proposed multiplex licence amendment represents the most appropriate means for securing an effective content management system on HD DTT? :

No, I do not agree.

Question 3: Do you agree with the proposed change to Condition 6 in the Multiplex B Licence? :

No, I do not agree.

Question 4: Do you agree that Multiplexes C and D should be granted a similar amendment to their Licences as Multiplex B?. :

No, I do not agree.

Question 5: Do you agree that the BBC's proposed approach for implementing content management would safeguard citizens and consumers legitimate use of HD content, and if not, what additional guarantees would be appropriate? :

No, I do not agree.

Question 6: Do you agree that the BBC's proposed choice of content management technologies will have only a negligible impact on the cost of HD DTT receivers and their interoperability with other HD consumer equipment? . :

I do not have a view on this question.

Question 7: Do stakeholders agree that the BBC's proposed Huffman Code licensing arrangements would have a negligible effect on the market for HD DTT receivers? :

No, I do not agree.

Question 8: Do the BBC's proposed content management states and their permitted use for different categories of HD content meet the requirements of other HD broadcasters on DTT? . :

I do not have a view on this question.

Question 9: Are there any issues that you consider Ofcom should take into account in assessing the BBC's proposal, that have not been addressed by this consultation?:

It is my view that the BBC should not embrace any form of DRM system for its broadcasts (HD or otherwise). It is also my view that BBC (and other broadcasters) should adapt to a world without DRM, even at the cost of fewer or only cheaper programmes being made. Furthermore, BBC should make a stand on this issue in favour of its viewers and license fee payers, and against the interests of content owners, even if other broadcasters choose to adopt DRM.
