Operating licence for the BBC’s UK Public Services

Issued on: 13 October 2017
About this document

This is the operating licence for the BBC’s UK Public Services. It sets the regulatory conditions that Ofcom considers appropriate for requiring the BBC to fulfil its Mission and promote the Public Purposes; to secure the provision of distinctive output and services; and to secure that all BBC audiences in England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland are well served.

The BBC must comply with the regulatory conditions in this licence. Ofcom will take enforcement action in the event of non-compliance.

A separate document is available for audiences in each of the United Kingdom’s nations which sets out the regulatory conditions that apply specifically to the BBC’s services in that nation.

Section 1

The Licence

1.1 This is the operating licence for the BBC’s UK Public Services (the “Licence”). Ofcom has set the Licence in exercise of its functions under the Royal Charter for the continuance of the British Broadcasting Corporation (the “Charter”) and the Agreement between the Secretary of State for Culture, Media and Sport, and the BBC (the “Agreement”), pursuant to section 198 of the Communications 2003.¹

1.2 In particular, Ofcom’s functions include² setting an operating licence for the UK Public Services containing regulatory conditions Ofcom considers appropriate for requiring the BBC:

1.2.1 to fulfil its Mission and promote the Public Purposes;
1.2.2 to secure the provision of distinctive output and services; and
1.2.3 to secure that audiences in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland are well served.

1.3 Further, Ofcom has set the Licence in accordance with the requirement³ to impose specific conditions⁴ which relate to:

- distinctiveness (where, in particular, in the first operating licence we are required to seek to increase the requirements set by the BBC Trust on the BBC as a whole to secure the provision of more distinctive output and services);
- third party online material;
- news and current affairs (quantity and scheduling);
- quotas for original productions; and
- quotas for nations and regions programming and programme making.

1.4 Ofcom has imposed in the Licence further Regulatory Conditions it considers appropriate for requiring the BBC, in carrying out the UK Public Services, to fulfil the Mission and promote the Public Purposes.⁵

1.5 Additionally, Ofcom has imposed in the Licence further Regulatory Conditions it considers appropriate for requiring the BBC to ensure that the audiences in England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland are well served.⁶

² Article 46(3) of the Charter.
³ Clause 13(2) of the Agreement.
⁴ The “operating licence regulatory conditions” set out in Schedule 2 to the Agreement.
⁵ Clause 13(3) of the Agreement.
⁶ Clause 13(4) of the Agreement.
1.6 The Licence applies to all of the BBC’s UK Public Services as set out in the Agreement\(^7\) and applies to all of the nations and regions of the United Kingdom. Ofcom has produced a separate document for audiences in each nation of the United Kingdom which sets out the specific regulatory requirements relating to the relevant nation, to be read alongside this Licence.

1.7 Under the provisions of the Charter and Agreement, the BBC Board is responsible both for ensuring that the BBC fulfils its Mission and promotes the Public Purposes, and for setting the strategic direction and the creative remit for doing so.\(^8\) The Board, rather than Ofcom, is tasked with setting budgets and strategies for BBC programmes and services. The BBC must publish an annual plan for each financial year, in advance of the period to which it relates, which must include (amongst other things) the creative remit for that year, the work plan for that year, and provision for the United Kingdom’s nations and regions.\(^9\)

1.8 Ofcom has consulted publicly before setting this Licence\(^10\), and Ofcom has set the Licence in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Operating Framework.\(^11\)

1.9 Ofcom may amend this Licence and considers it likely that it will do so regularly over the duration of the Charter. For example, Ofcom may consider it appropriate to amend the Licence in light of evidence about the BBC’s performance in particular areas, or to take account of changes in audiences’ viewing or listening habits, or changes to technology: for example, greater consumption across different platforms. Before amending the Licence, Ofcom will consult the BBC. Ofcom will also consult any other person it considers appropriate in light of the nature and materiality of the proposed amendment, in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Operating Framework.

1.10 The BBC must comply with the Regulatory Conditions of the Licence in providing the UK Public Services.\(^12\) Ofcom must enforce compliance by the BBC with the Regulatory Conditions of the Licence\(^13\), and in particular Ofcom may consider complaints made to Ofcom by any person, and carry out such investigations as Ofcom considers appropriate.\(^14\) Ofcom must also enforce compliance by the BBC with some regulatory requirements\(^15\) which apply to the BBC directly through the Charter and the Agreement, or through legislation, such as quotas for independent productions\(^16\), and requirements relating to provision for people who are hearing or visually impaired.\(^17\)

\(^8\) Article 20(3)(a) and (b) of the Charter.

\(^9\) Article 36 of the Charter.

\(^10\) Clause 13(5) of the Agreement provides that before setting an operating licence Ofcom must consult the BBC and any person Ofcom considers appropriate.

\(^11\) Article 46(3) of the Charter provides that Ofcom must set an operating licence for the UK Public Services in accordance with the Operating Framework.

\(^12\) Clause 7(2) of the Agreement.

\(^13\) The regulatory conditions are “specified requirements” under clause 59(b) of the Agreement.

\(^17\) Paragraph 9 of Schedule 3 to the Agreement.
1.11 If Ofcom is satisfied that the BBC has failed to comply with a Regulatory Condition of the Licence, and has given the BBC a reasonable opportunity to make representations about the matter, Ofcom may:

1.11.1 direct the BBC (or accept undertakings from the BBC) to take such steps Ofcom consider will remedy the failure to comply, and ensure that the BBC complies with their requirements properly in future;

1.11.2 serve on the BBC a notice requiring it to pay to Ofcom, within a specified period, a specified penalty up to a maximum of £250,000.\textsuperscript{18}

1.12 Ofcom has made provision in the Operating Framework for how it will exercise its enforcement powers.\textsuperscript{19}

1.13 The BBC is required to publish an annual report for each financial year, which must include (amongst other things) how the BBC delivered the creative remit and its work plan; the BBC’s provision for the United Kingdom’s nations and regions, including how the BBC delivered the creative remit in the nations and regions; how it has made the BBC’s output and services available to the public; and expenditure on the UK Public Television Services by genre.\textsuperscript{20}

1.14 Following receipt of the BBC’s annual report, Ofcom also must publish an annual report, setting out how Ofcom has carried out its principal functions under the Charter across the whole of the United Kingdom. This report will also set out Ofcom’s assessment of the BBC’s compliance with the Regulatory Conditions of the Licence.\textsuperscript{21} Ofcom has power to require the BBC to provide information for the purpose of the carrying out by Ofcom of its functions.\textsuperscript{22}

The BBC’s Mission

1.15 The Mission of the BBC is to act in the public interest, serving all audiences through the provision of impartial, high-quality and distinctive output and services which inform, educate and entertain.\textsuperscript{23}

The BBC’s Public Purposes

1.16 The Public Purposes of the BBC are as follows:\textsuperscript{24}

1.16.1 \textbf{To provide impartial news and information to help people understand and engage with the world around them}: the BBC should provide duly accurate and impartial news, current affairs and factual programming to build people’s understanding of all parts of the United Kingdom and of the wider world. content should be provided to the highest editorial standards. It should offer a range and depth of analysis and content not widely available from other United Kingdom news providers, using the highest calibre presenters and journalists, and championing freedom of expression, so that all audiences can engage fully with major local, regional, national, United Kingdom and global issues and participate in the democratic process, at all levels, as active and informed citizens.

1.16.2 To support learning for people of all ages: the BBC should help everyone learn about different subjects in ways they will find accessible, engaging, inspiring and challenging. The BBC should provide specialist educational content to help support learning for children and teenagers across the United Kingdom. It should encourage people to explore new subjects and participate in new activities through partnerships with educational, sporting and cultural institutions.

1.16.3 To show the most creative, highest quality and distinctive output and services: the BBC should provide high-quality output in many different genres and across a range of services and platforms which sets the standards in the United Kingdom and internationally. Its services should be distinctive from those provided elsewhere and should take creative risks, even if not all succeed, in order to develop fresh approaches and innovative content.

1.16.4 To reflect, represent and serve the diverse communities of all of the United Kingdom’s nations and regions and, in doing so, support the creative economy across the United Kingdom: the BBC should reflect the diversity of the United Kingdom both in its output and services. In doing so, the BBC should accurately and authentically represent and portray the lives of the people of the United Kingdom today, and raise awareness of the different cultures and alternative viewpoints that make up its society. It should ensure that it provides output and services that meet the needs of the United Kingdom’s nations, regions and communities. The BBC should bring people together for shared experiences and help contribute to the social cohesion and wellbeing of the United Kingdom. In commissioning and delivering output the BBC should invest in the creative economies of each of the nations and contribute to their development.

1.16.5 To reflect the United Kingdom, its culture and values to the world: the BBC should provide high-quality news coverage to international audiences, firmly based on British values of accuracy, impartiality, and fairness. Its international services should put the United Kingdom in a world context, aiding understanding of the United Kingdom as a whole, including its nations and regions where appropriate. It should ensure that it produces output and services which will be enjoyed by people in the United Kingdom and globally.25

25 The BBC’s delivery of its fifth public purpose, reflecting the UK to the world, will be achieved primarily through the BBC World Service and BBC Worldwide. The new operating licence will not cover the BBC World Service; responsibility for setting a licence for the BBC World Service lies with the BBC (clause 34 of the Agreement).
1.17 The BBC must support a wide range of valued genres across its services, such as drama, comedy, factual programmes and different types of music. In doing so, we expect the BBC to continue producing programmes on a broad range of established themes and interests – including but not exclusively programmes covering politics, business, consumer issues, rural affairs, health, disability and social action. We will monitor the BBC’s output in a variety of ways to ensure it meets its public purposes and provides a broad range of programmes across its services.

1.18 This Licence sets out Regulatory Conditions to ensure that the BBC continues to provide a mix of key genres and high-quality output across television, radio and online, and to ensure that a significant amount of original programming is produced for audiences in the United Kingdom.

1.19 The requirements that we have set for the BBC are designed to ensure that the BBC delivers its Mission and Public Purposes and distinctive output and services. This Licence and the performance measures that we have set alongside it are designed to deliver fully the intent of the new Charter and Agreement, by leaving creative decisions in the hands of programme-makers, but challenging the BBC to deliver for all of its audiences.

1.20 This Licence sets Regulatory Conditions that the BBC must meet, setting a baseline for future performance. The conditions capture areas where the Charter and Agreement require, or we have found, that specific conditions are required. The Licence sets stretching requirements in a range of areas, but we expect the BBC to go further. As well as the rules we have set in this Licence, we have put in place detailed plans for measuring the BBC’s performance, not only against the Regulatory Conditions in this Licence but across the range of the BBC’s services and output.

1.21 These requirements may need to change over time, depending on the ongoing delivery and commitment of the BBC in these areas, or to reflect any real financial constraints on the effectiveness of the BBC. These conditions may also be amended if Ofcom considers it appropriate to do so, for example in light of the BBC’s performance across its services. We expect the BBC to continue improving how it delivers against its remit.

1.22 The rest of this Licence (including the Regulatory Conditions) is organised by Public Purpose. The Regulatory Conditions are set out in Schedule 1 to the Licence.

1.23 Regulatory Conditions relate either to individual services or, where appropriate, set cross service commitments. It is important to note that many Regulatory Conditions may contribute to more than one Public Purpose. For example, many of the Regulatory Conditions across the Licence contribute to securing the provision of distinctive output and services.

26 A list and description of the existing UK Public Services is set out in Part 1, Schedule 1 to the Agreement. We have reproduced that list in Schedule 3 to this Licence for ease of reference.
Purpose (1): Providing impartial news and information to help people understand and engage with the world around them

1.24 Ofcom considers that the BBC, in meeting its Public Purpose of providing impartial news and information to help people understand and engage with the world around them in accordance with its obligations under the Charter, should do the following:

1.24.1 provide a significant level of news, current affairs and factual programming across its full range of services and platforms, and seek to reach and serve all audiences with this output;

1.24.2 seek to maintain its coverage of regional, national and international themes and stories within its news, current affairs and factual programming, to enable audiences to develop a broad understanding of what is happening locally, nationally and in the wider world;

1.24.3 continue to provide trusted and reliable information, news, current affairs and factual output to the highest editorial standards;

1.24.4 ensure that it provides adequate links to third party online material, particularly within its news stories, helping to provide its users with a wealth of information while also supporting other providers within the industry. In doing so the BBC should exercise careful judgment about the links that it offers.

1.25 Accordingly, Ofcom has imposed Regulatory Conditions on the BBC as set out in Schedule 1 to this Licence, which the BBC must comply with and which Ofcom will enforce.

Purpose (2): Supporting learning for people of all ages

1.26 Ofcom considers that the BBC, in meeting its Public Purpose of supporting learning for people of all ages in accordance with its obligations under the Charter, should do the following:

1.26.1 continue to provide a broad range of content across its services which provides opportunities for all audiences to learn. We expect the BBC to produce informal learning content which covers subjects such as art, music, religion, science, nature, business and history, and content with an international focus. This content should be widely available, and the BBC should endeavour to serve and reach the widest possible audiences with this content via its mainstream television channels, radio stations and online platforms;

1.26.2 as part of its duty to encourage people to learn about new and different subjects, we expect the BBC to help both adults and children develop skills to explore and navigate the resources it offers across its services, and in particular its online services;

1.26.3 ensure that it serves children of all ages, including older children and teenagers, and that it produces engaging and stimulating content for informal learning which is available in the formats and on the services that children use; and
1.26.4 play an important role in education and learning in the United Kingdom through partnerships with educational, cultural and sporting organisations. The BBC should share its expertise and resources, including its archive where appropriate, as part of these partnerships with specialist institutions, for the benefit of UK audiences.

1.27 Accordingly, Ofcom has imposed Regulatory Conditions on the BBC as set out in Schedule 1 to this Licence, which the BBC must comply with and which Ofcom will enforce.

Purpose (3): Showing the most creative, highest quality and distinctive output and services

1.28 The Charter and Agreement define “distinctive output and services” with reference to creativity and high quality. Article 63 of the Charter, and paragraph 1 of Schedule 2 to the Agreement, define distinctive output and services as:

“output and services, taken as a whole, that are substantially different to other comparable providers across each and every UK Public Service both in peak time and overall, and on television, radio and online, in terms of-

(a) the mix of different genres and output;

(b) the quality of output;

(c) the amount of original output produced in the UK;

(d) the level of risk-taking, innovation, challenge and creative ambition; and

(e) the range of audiences it serves.”

1.29 Ofcom considers that this definition of distinctive output and services, at a high level, covers the important areas the BBC should take into account in meeting its Public Purpose of showing the most creative, highest quality and distinctive output and services in accordance with its obligations under the Charter and Agreement. Distinctiveness lies at the core of the Charter, and the majority of the conditions we are placing on the BBC across its services are designed to promote it. Many of our conditions for other Public Purposes will contribute to a more distinctive BBC. For example, our conditions securing delivery of news and current affairs set out in the Licence under Public Purpose 1 are an important part of securing distinctiveness. In relation to Public Purpose 2, our conditions for delivery of children's content are significant in securing distinctiveness. Likewise, our conditions under Public Purpose 4 requiring a higher proportion of programmes in the nations or outside London are a key part of securing distinctiveness.

1.30 We want the BBC to set out clearly in its annual plan and creative remit each year how it will secure the provision of distinctive output and services, and how every UK Public Service will contribute to this delivery. Distinctiveness will also be at the core of how we measure performance.

1.31 The BBC published its interim annual plan containing a draft work plan and creative remit for 2017/18 on 3 July 2017. The interim annual plan takes as its starting point the regulatory conditions that we set out in our draft Operating Licence, and adds to these conditions.

over 100 further commitments. They include: broadcasting a demonstrably broader range of genres in peak-time on BBC One than any comparable channel; commissioning substantial scripted content for BBC Three; exploring different types of programming, including super long-form on BBC Four; age targets for Radio 1, 1Xtra and Radio 2; drama commitments for Radio 3 and 4 and comedy commitments for Radio 4; and a broader range of sports on 5 Live and Sports Extra than on any comparable service.

Additionally, the BBC has set out further commitments to strengthen distinctiveness on its radio services, which it intends to include in its final annual plan for 2017/18. These further commitments include increasing the level of new and UK music broadcast in Daytime on Radio 1 and Radio 2 and introducing further measures to monitor the distinctiveness of these services from their key commercial radio competitors. The BBC’s commitments also cover the level of new music on BBC 6 Music; new music and music from UK artists during Daytime on 1Xtra; new and UK music during Daytime on the BBC Asian Network; original drama and original comedy on Radio 4; comedy and drama on BBC 4 Extra; new drama on Radio 3; and reporting commitments on BBC Radio 5 live sports extra, plus a review by the BBC of the station’s remit and range of broadcast content.28

1.33 Ofcom considers that in delivering distinctive output and services:

1.33.1 in relation to the mix of different genres and output, the BBC should ensure that a range of programming is provided across its television services. It should also secure the amount and prominence of those genres identified as at risk or in decline across public service broadcasting, including: music, arts, religion, comedy and children’s programming. On its radio services, the BBC should ensure its portfolio of stations offer the broadest variety of output and that the range of musical output on its popular radio services29 is broader than that of comparable providers;

1.33.2 in relation to the quality of output, the BBC should ensure high quality across the volume of its output, with respect to content, the quality of content production, and the professional skill and editorial integrity applied to that production;

1.33.3 in relation to the amount of original output produced in the United Kingdom, the BBC should ensure that a substantial proportion of the programming broadcast on its television services are original productions, particularly at Peak Viewing Time. The BBC should also secure an appropriate amount of first-run UK originations across its television services, ensuring they make up a substantial proportion of Peak Viewing Time. The BBC should contribute to the creative economies of the United Kingdom through its continued investment in originated content;

1.33.4 in relation to the level of risk-taking, innovation, challenge and creative ambition, the BBC should continue to take risks in terms of the output it commissions, the range of organisations it commissions from and have a renewed focus on innovation and creative risk-taking through the commissioning and scheduling of new titles. In doing so, the BBC should secure an appropriate balance of unique

titles and long-running series. It should also commission output from a wide range of independent producers to ensure a range of voices and ideas are reflected across its services; and

1.33.5 in relation to the audience it serves, the BBC should ensure that its output and services cater for the diverse audiences of the United Kingdom, through both through its popular mixed genre services and its more specialist and single purpose services.

1.34 Accordingly, Ofcom has imposed Regulatory Conditions on the BBC as set out in Schedule 1 to this Licence, which the BBC must comply with and which Ofcom will enforce. The Regulatory Conditions particularly emphasise new and original content, and include increased requirements for original production of BBC One, Two, CBBC and BBC Four; new first-run UK origination requirements to secure the BBC’s investment in new programmes; a new quota for comedy on BBC One and Two; new requirements on both Radio 1 and 2 to play a broader range of music than comparable providers and more music from new and emerging UK artists; and a requirement for Radio 1 to offer a minimum number of major social action campaigns. We have also set out in the same part of Schedule 1 to the Licence a list of the conditions which have been grouped in this Licence under the other public purposes to which they relate (purposes 1, 2 and 4) and are also key to securing the public purpose of showing the most creative, high quality and distinctive output.

Purpose (4): Reflecting, representing and serving the diverse communities of all of the United Kingdom’s nations and regions and, in doing so, supporting the creative economy across the United Kingdom

1.35 Ofcom considers that in meeting its Public Purpose of reflecting, representing and serving the diverse communities of all of the United Kingdom’s nations and regions and, in doing so, supporting the creative economy across the United Kingdom in accordance with its obligations under the Charter the BBC should do the following.

Diversity, audience portrayal and representation

1.36 In relation to diversity, the BBC should:

1.36.1 serve and create content of interest and of relevance to all audience groups across the whole of the United Kingdom;

1.36.2 reflect the diversity of the United Kingdom’s nations and regions appropriately in its output, services and genres. This should include age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation and socioeconomic background;

1.36.3 accurately represent and authentically portray the diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom;\(^{30}\) and

\(^{30}\) “Representation” means the extent to which people and characters appear and “portrayal” means the ways in which these people and characters are depicted. For representation to be accurate we expect the number of people appearing in
1.36.4 help contribute to social wellbeing through cultural education, awareness and bringing people together for shared experiences.

1.37 In doing so, we would expect the BBC’s own workforce and that of the production companies from which it commissions to reflect the make-up of different communities across the United Kingdom and its nations and regions – and to make demonstrable year on year progress.

1.38 We are conducting an in-depth review of how different audiences are represented and portrayed on the BBC. All audiences should feel that the BBC offers something for them, but our research shows that several groups feel that it doesn’t adequately represent their interests or lives. This is our first ad hoc review of the BBC. As part of our analysis we plan to examine the on-screen diversity of the BBC’s programming, including in its popular peak time shows. It will ask what audiences expect from the BBC, to understand whether it reflects and portrays the lives of all people across the whole of the UK, ranging from younger and older audiences to diverse communities. We will take into account the outcomes of the review as we shape future regulation, and take further measures where needed to ensure that the BBC is delivering for all of its audiences.

Nations and Regions

1.39 In relation to the United Kingdom’s nations and regions, the BBC should:

1.39.1 accurately represent and authentically portray all audience groups from the nations and regions across its output, services and genres;

1.39.2 distribute its production resources across the United Kingdom ensuring that it supports the creative industries in the nations and regions. This should also include production across the regions of England and build sustainable growth for the creative industries across the United Kingdom;

1.39.3 ensure programming for the nations and regions serves and creates content of interest and of relevance to the people living in the area for which the service is provided. Within Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland this should include indigenous language broadcasting and a wide range of genres, including drama, comedy and sports; and

1.39.4 contribute to social wellbeing through cultural education, awareness and bringing people together for shared experiences.

1.40 Accordingly, Ofcom has imposed Regulatory Conditions on the BBC as set out in Schedule 1 to this Licence, which the BBC must comply with and which Ofcom will enforce.

BBC programmes to broadly reflect the populations of the United Kingdom. We will assess the extent to which people feel authentically portrayed through audience research.

31 Ofcom must, where appropriate, carry out and publish additional (“ad hoc”) reviews addressing any specific issue of concern identified by Ofcom relating to the activities of the BBC that are subject to regulation by Ofcom under this Charter and Framework Agreement (Article 51(3) of the Charter).

32 “Representation” means the extent to which people and characters appear and “portrayal” means the ways in which these people and characters are depicted. For representation to be accurate we expect the number of people appearing in BBC programmes to broadly reflect the populations of the United Kingdom. We will assess the extent to which people feel authentically portrayed through audience research.
Regulatory conditions

2.1 Ofcom has set the following Regulatory Conditions which it considers appropriate for requiring the BBC to:

2.1.1 fulfil its Mission and promote the Public Purposes;
2.1.2 secure the provision of distinctive output and services; and
2.1.3 secure that audiences in England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland are well served.

2.2 Ofcom has set the Regulatory Conditions in light of its expectations of the BBC as set out in this Licence. The Regulatory Conditions will be regularly reviewed by Ofcom and amended if Ofcom considers it appropriate to do so, including in light of the BBC’s performance.

Purpose (3): To show the most creative, highest quality and distinctive output and services

The majority of the Regulatory Conditions in this Licence are important in securing a more distinctive BBC. Many of these have been grouped under the other Public Purposes to which they specifically relate (purposes 1, 2 and 4) and are also key to securing the Public Purpose of showing the most creative, highest quality and distinctive output and services. A list of these Regulatory Conditions appears at the end of this part of the Licence, below condition 2.41.

Original productions

2.32 The BBC shall ensure that in each Calendar Year the time allocated to the broadcasting of original productions by each UK Public Television Service set out in column I below:

- 2.32.1 is not less than the percentage of the total time allocated to the broadcasting of all the programmes for that service specified in column II; and
- 2.32.2 is not less than the percentage of the total time allocated to the broadcasting of all the programmes for that service in Peak Viewing Time specified in column III.

“Original productions”, in relation to the UK Public Television Services taken together, has the same meaning that is specified by the Broadcasting (Original Productions) Order 2004 or any subsequent order under section 278(6) of the Communications Act 2003 in relation to a licensed public service channel.

First-run UK originations

2.33 In respect of BBC One, the BBC must ensure that in each Calendar Year at least 4,000 hours are allocated to the broadcasting of first-run UK originations across Daytime and Peak Viewing Time.

2.34 In respect of BBC Two, the BBC must ensure that in each Calendar Year at least 2,200 hours are allocated to the broadcasting of first-run UK originations across Daytime and Peak Viewing Time.
2.35 In respect of CBBC, the BBC must ensure that in each Calendar Year at least 400 hours are allocated to the broadcasting of first-run UK originations across Daytime and Peak Viewing Time.

2.36 In respect of CBeebies, the BBC must ensure that in each Calendar Year at least 100 hours are allocated to the broadcasting of first-run UK originations across Daytime and Peak Viewing Time.

2.37 For the purposes of conditions 2.33 to 2.36:

2.37.1 “first-run UK originations” means programmes which are commissioned by or for a UK Public Television Service and have not previously been shown on television in the United Kingdom; and

2.37.2 references to hours mean hours measured in slot times\(^\text{34}\) for programmes with a slot time of 10 minutes or more, or hours measured in running times\(^\text{35}\) for programmes with a slot time of less than 10 minutes.

Distinctiveness

2.38 In respect of BBC One and BBC Two taken together, the BBC must ensure that in each Financial Year at least 300 hours are allocated to comedy programmes, some of which must be in Peak Viewing Time. For the purpose of this requirement, “comedy programmes” includes repeats and acquisitions.

2.39 In respect of Radio 1, the BBC must ensure that:

2.39.1 in each Financial Year at least 45% of the music in Daytime is from United Kingdom acts;

2.39.2 in each Financial Year at least 45% of the music in Daytime is New Music, of which a significant proportion must come from new and emerging United Kingdom artists;

2.39.3 in each week it broadcasts at least 60 hours of specialist music. For the purpose of this requirement, “specialist music” means music which appeals to specific groups of listeners, and focuses on a specific genre of music or on cutting edge music from a range of genres;

2.39.4 in each Financial Year it broadcasts at least 175 new sessions live or recorded within the previous three months (excluding repeats);

2.39.5 the station plays a broader range of music than comparable providers, taking into account both the number of plays and the size of the playlist, at both Peak Listening Time and Daytime;\(^\text{36}\)

2.39.6 in each Calendar Year it offers at least two major social action campaigns.

\(^{34}\) i.e. including presentation material during and at the end of programmes.

\(^{35}\) i.e. excluding presentation material.

\(^{36}\) For the purposes of identifying comparable providers, the description of the Radio 1 service published under Part 1, Schedule 1 to the Agreement, and the audiences it attracts, are key considerations. Taking this approach, our expectation is that a radio service offering a popular music service, featuring new music and appealing to young audiences would be a comparable provider to Radio 1.
2.40 In respect of Radio 2, the BBC must ensure that:

2.40.1 in each Financial Year at least 40% of the music in Daytime is from United Kingdom acts;

2.40.2 in each Financial Year at least 20% of the music in Daytime is New Music, of which a significant proportion must come from new and emerging United Kingdom artists;

2.40.3 in each Financial Year it broadcasts at least 260 hours of live music;

2.40.4 in each Financial Year it broadcasts at least 1,100 hours of specialist music programmes. For the purpose of this requirement, “specialist music” means music which appeals to specific groups of listeners, and focuses on a specific genre of music or on cutting edge music from a range of genres; and

2.40.5 the station plays a broader range of music than comparable providers, taking into account both the number of plays and the size of the playlist, at both Peak Listening Time and Daytime.

2.41 In respect of BBC Radio 5 live, the BBC must ensure that in each Financial Year live commentary is offered on at least 20 sports.

The following Regulatory Conditions have been grouped in this Licence under the other Public Purposes to which they specifically relate (purposes 1, 2 and 4) and are also key to securing the Public Purpose of showing the most creative, highest quality and distinctive output.

37 For the purposes of identifying comparable providers, the description of the Radio 2 service published under Part 1, Schedule 1 to the Agreement, and the audience it attracts, are key considerations. To the extent that Radio 2 discharges its requirement to play specialist music by playing such music outside Peak Listening Time and Daytime, we would not regard a station specialising in a particular genre of music as a comparable provider.

38 This table contains a summary of the relevant conditions. The full and authoritative text can be found in this Licence at the Regulatory Condition indicated.
- a suitable range of programmes;
- 700 hours of non-news programming in Peak;
- 280 hours of non-news programming immediately preceding or following Peak;
- a specific requirement for BBC One to broadcast at least 4,300 hours of news of national or regional interest at intervals throughout the day, of which 2,100 hours must be in Peak.

Purpose (4): To reflect, represent and serve the diverse communities of all of the United Kingdom’s nations and regions and, in doing so, support the creative economy across the United Kingdom

Diversity, audience portrayal and representation

2.42 The BBC must report to Ofcom annually on how the UK Public Services as a whole have reflected, represented and served the diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom during the previous Financial Year. In particular, the BBC must demonstrate how it has:

2.42.1 had regard to the range of diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom. This should include age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation and socioeconomic background;

2.42.2 served and delivered content for the range of the diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom;

2.42.3 accurately represented the diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom;

2.42.4 authentically portrayed the diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom;

2.42.5 raised awareness of the different cultures and alternative viewpoints of the diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom.

2.43 The BBC must report to Ofcom annually on the extent to which the BBC has made progress towards meeting its on-screen and on-air representation and/or portrayal targets.

2.44 The BBC must measure and report to Ofcom annually on audience satisfaction during the previous Financial Year with the reflection, representation and serving of the diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom across the UK Public Services as a whole, with particular regard to first-run content across all genres. This must include audience satisfaction in the following areas:

2.44.1 how the BBC represents, portrays and serves diverse audiences;

2.44.2 how the BBC reflects the whole of the United Kingdom population on-screen and on-air, with particular regard to first-run content across all genres; and

2.44.3 how the BBC raises awareness of different cultures and viewpoints.

2.45 Where in any particular Financial Year the BBC’s measurement of audience satisfaction under condition 2.44 indicates that specific audience groups are dissatisfied with the BBC’s performance in these areas, the BBC must:

2.45.1 identify in its report under condition 2.44 for that Financial Year the steps that it will take to seek to improve audience satisfaction among those particular audience groups; and include in its report under condition 2.44 for the following Financial Year an account of the steps it has taken and the effect that those steps have had on audience satisfaction in those particular audience groups.

The BBC must, by 1 April 2018, establish and comply with a code of practice, approved by Ofcom, setting out the steps the BBC will take when commissioning content across all genres to ensure that such content accurately represents, authentically portrays and reflects the diverse communities of the whole of the United Kingdom. The code of practice must cover commissions produced by the BBC in-house and commissions produced externally.

In particular, the code of practice must set out the steps that the BBC will take, when commissioning content, in respect of:

1. on-screen portrayal and casting;
2. workforce diversity of commissioned production teams; and
3. the production and commissioning decision process.

The BBC must monitor its compliance with the code of practice and must report annually to Ofcom on its compliance with the code of practice during the previous Financial Year.

Ofcom may, at any time, by notification in writing to the BBC:

1. approve modifications to an approved code where Ofcom considers that the code as so modified would meet the objectives set out in condition 2.46; or
2. withdraw its approval from a code where Ofcom considers that the code no longer meets the objectives sets out in condition 2.46.

The BBC must monitor and report to Ofcom annually on the diversity of all staff (employees and freelance) of the BBC who are employed in connection with the provision of the UK Public Services. The report must be in a form specified by Ofcom and must include the following information:

1. the number of such staff by age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation and socioeconomic background;
2. the job level of such staff by the following categories: Board members and non-executives; senior managers; middle/junior managers; and non-management;
3. the job type of such staff by the following categories: programming; commissioning; technical/engineering; sales/marketing; and support functions/administrative;
4. the extent to which the BBC has made progress towards meeting its diversity workforce targets.

Nothing in condition 2.50 requires the BBC to provide any information to Ofcom where such provision would be in breach of relevant data protection legislation.

39 The UK Public Services do not include the World Service or the BBC’s commercial services (see definition of “the UK Public Services” in Schedule 2 to this Licence).
2.52 Ofcom may publish any report provided by the BBC under condition 2.42, 2.43, 2.44, 2.48 or 2.50.

Programme making in the nations and regions: network programmes

United Kingdom (outside the M25 Area)

2.53 The BBC must ensure that in each Calendar Year:

2.53.1 at least 50% of the hours of Network Programmes made in the United Kingdom are made outside the M25 Area;

2.53.2 the Network Programmes that are made in the United Kingdom outside the M25 Area (taken together) constitute a suitable range of programmes; and

2.53.3 at least 50% of the Expenditure of the BBC on Network Programmes made in the United Kingdom is referable to programme production at different production centres outside the M25 Area.

England (outside the M25 Area)

2.54 The BBC must ensure that:

2.54.1 in each Calendar Year at least 30% of the hours of Network Programmes made in the United Kingdom are made in England (outside the M25 Area);

2.54.2 until 31 December 2019, in each Calendar Year at least 28% of the Expenditure of the BBC on Network Programmes made in the United Kingdom is referable to programme production at different production centres in England (outside the M25 Area); and

2.54.3 from 1 January 2020, in each Calendar Year at least 30% of the Expenditure of the BBC on Network Programmes made in the United Kingdom is referable to programme production at different production centres in England (outside the M25 Area).

2.55 The BBC may request in writing that the percentage of hours of Network Programmes specified in condition 2.54.1 be reduced in respect of a particular Calendar Year. Ofcom will consider any such request and may agree to the request where it appears to Ofcom that in the particular circumstances of the case the reduction would secure a suitable proportion of Network Programmes.\(^{40}\)

Scotland

2.56 The BBC must ensure that in each Calendar Year:
