Additional comments:

Question 1: a) Do you consider that the rule in relation to 'adult-sex' material needs to be clarified? b) Do you agree with our proposed amendments to the rule on 'adult-sex' material (Proposed Rule 1.18 to replace Rule 1.24)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed amendments, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

a) Yes

b) Yes

Question 2: a) Do you consider that the introduction of a new rule in relation to material of a strong sexual nature is appropriate? b) Do you agree with our proposed rule on material of a strong sexual nature (proposed Rule 1.19)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed new rule, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

a) No

c) 1. Any representation of sexual activity should be considered as "arousing/stimulating", particularly when nudity is involved. I therefore find it difficult to find any editorial justification for presenting such material on screen or on radio, other than for the purpose of "arousing/stimulating" the audience. It is quite adequate to suggest this activity without actually showing it.

2. The mere presentation of sexual activity on screen glamourises it, making it even more attractive than it already is. A recent study published in "Pediatrics", the journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics, has shown that teenagers who watch programmes which include sexual content (such as "Sex in the City") are more likely to become pregnant or to make some one else pregnant. I would therefore suggest that the representation of sexual content on television or radio is not only unnecessary, but also potentially harmful.

3. Whilst all parents SHOULD have a care about what their children are watching, many do not, and it is unfair to allow potentially harmful material to be available to children and young people because their parents are not as responsible as they might be. Also, many children and teenagers have televisions in their bedrooms, and they may be able to watch programming that is inappropriate for them without their parents' knowledge. As mentioned above, I believe that sexual material is unnecessary and should not be presented on unrestricted television or radio at all.

Question 3: a) Do you consider that the rule in relation to material equivalent to the BBFC R-18 rating needs to be separated from the rule in relation to R-18 rated works? b) Do you agree with our proposed rule on material equivalent to the BBFC R-18 rating (proposed Rule 1.17)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed new rule, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

a) Yes

b) Yes

Question 4: a) Do you consider that the rule in relation to pre-watershed material needs to be clarified? b) Do you agree with our proposed amendments to the rule on pre-watershed material (proposed Rule 1.20 to replace Rule 1.17)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed amendments, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

a) Yes

b) No

c) The clarification suggested actually waters down the current ruling. In particular the removal of the word "inexplicit" could be seen as allowing greater freedom for broadcasters to "push the boundaries" of what is acceptable. It should not be necessary or editorially acceptable to present images of a sexual nature on programming aimed at entertainment. Educational programming may be an exception, but such material should be very strictly limited in its scope. I would suggest that most information could be presented with diagrams and, where absolutely necessary, with still photographs. Moving footage of actual people should not be included.

Question 5: a) Do you consider that the associated revisions are appropriate following the other rule revisions outlined above? b) Do you agree with our proposed associated revisions in Section One? c) If you do not agree with our proposed revisions, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.: Question 6: a) Do you wish to suggest an alternative approach to the proposed set of rules in relation to sexual material? If so, please outline your proposals, which should comply with relevant legislation (including the Communications Act 2003 and the European Convention on Human Rights).:

b) Yes

I believe that it is not necessary to present material of a sexual nature on television and radio programming. It has already been shown that such material can lead to an increase in teenage pregnancy (see Question 2 c 2., above). It is not unreasonable to assume that sexually transmitted diseases would also be favoured by the greater and earlier sexual activity that such programming fosters amongst young people.

It is my opinion that presenting material of a sexual nature in entertainment programming is only ever included for the purpose of arousing the audience (even rape scenes may have that effect on some). Consequently, I would propose a ban on the representation of sexual intercourse and nudity on television, and the discussion of sex to be limited to educational purposes only.
