Additional comments:

The British Heart Foundation (BHF) is the UK's leading heart charity. We are fighting against heart and circulatory disease - which is the UK's biggest killer and caused 53,000 premature deaths in 2006 (1). Our vision is of a world where no-one dies prematurely of heart disease.

The BHF is committed to improving the cardiovascular health of the nation, and preventing and tackling obesity is an important aspect of this. Helping children to develop healthy habits that they can continue into adulthood is a priority for the Foundation. It is estimated that by 2050, 60% of men and 50% of women could be obese (2). We are raising awareness of the benefits of a healthy lifestyle, and advocating for the right environment to make the healthy choice the easy choice.

We welcome the restriction of product placement in radio programmes specifically aimed at children. However, we believe that the regulations outlined in options B, C and D of this consultation document do not go far enough to protect children from advertising and sponsorship of/by foods and drinks high in fat, salt and sugar (HFSS).

Whilst actual product placement would not be permitted in programmes specifically aimed at children, there will be 'adult' programmes with a high proportion of listeners under the age of 16 where it is - if option C or D are selected.

Restricting sponsorship of programmes by HFSS products or brands, and the product placement of HFSS foods and drinks, so that they can only be aired after 9pm, would help protect children under the age of 16.
