Yes

Additional comments:

I have been alerted about this report by CCFON and agree with their response. For my own part I am seriously concerned that OFCOM is having to deal with a problem which has only become an issue in recent decades as program makers seek to push the boundaries regarding what is acceptable for broadcast. I feel we would have been better off retaining censorship laws of the 50's and 60's. The problem with this consultation process is that only considerably literate people can access it and then participate. It would be far better if common sense prevailed and material which depicted the basest form of human behaviour was not broadcast.

Question 1: a) Do you consider that the rule in relation to ?adult-sex? material needs to be clarified? b) Do you agree with our proposed amendments to the rule on ?adult-sex? material (Proposed Rule 1.18 to replace Rule 1.24)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed amendments, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

I appreciate that you seem to be attempting to define and distinguish between areas of sexual content. I hope there will be effective sanctions put in place to prevent flouting of the guidelines. However it seems that you have a thankless task protecting the weak and vulnerable when pay per view is readily available. We hear of increasingly disturbing behaviour exhibited by young children who have been exposed to 'adult material' by irresponsible adults.

Question 2: a) Do you consider that the introduction of a new rule in relation to material of a strong sexual nature is appropriate? b) Do you agree with our proposed rule on material of a strong sexual nature (proposed Rule 1.19)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed new rule, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

How do you decide when the material causes arousal? You seem to want to prevent viewers being inadvertently offended which seems laudable but are you simply buying into the informed choices mantra. The true test should be to decide whether material is inherently offensive. We are now hearing the results of young people in this country making informed choices with regard to their drinking habits. Being informed does not necessarily lead to beneficial decision making.

Question 3: a) Do you consider that the rule in relation to material equivalent to the BBFC R-18 rating needs to be separated from the rule in relation to R-18 rated works? b) Do you agree with our proposed rule on material equivalent to the BBFC R-18 rating (proposed Rule 1.17)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed new rule, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

Question 4: a) Do you consider that the rule in relation to pre-watershed material needs to be clarified? b) Do you agree with our proposed amendments to the rule on pre-watershed material (proposed Rule 1.20 to replace Rule 1.17)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed amendments, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

The watershed is far too early, and even if it was later would not deal with irresponsible adults allowing young people to watch inappropriate material.

Question 5: a) Do you consider that the associated revisions are appropriate following the other rule revisions outlined above? b) Do you agree with our proposed associated revisions in Section One? c) If you do not agree with our proposed revisions, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate.:

How will deal with fantasy adverts eg "babes just waiting to have fun with you "etc Again all on freeview and taking money under false pretences. There are also far more explicit ads all of which are found whilst channel hopping

Question 6: a) Do you wish to suggest an alternative approach to the proposed set of rules in relation to sexual material? If so, please outline your proposals, which should comply with relevant legislation (including the Communications Act 2003 and the European Convention on Human Rights):.

I used to subscribe to Sky. Adult channels were blocked. Then I discovered that I was being sent sampler pornography. (no doubt aimed at seducing the unsuspecting.) I complained to Sky and was flabbergasted when they informed me that they had no control over program makers who wished to send programs for free! I gave them an option. Stop sending the stuff or I will stop using Sky. They had no jurisdiction over the program suppliers. So I cancelled SKY. I exercised my right to choose but the problem remained. I now have a new TV with free view. The problem is back again. There are all sorts of programs masquerading as documentaries which are simply "sexually stimulating" to use your terminology

Question 7: a) Do you consider that the introduction of new rules in relation to competitions and voting is appropriate? b) Do you agree with our proposed new rules in relation to competitions and voting (proposed Rules 2.11 to 2.13 to replace Rule 2.11)? c) If you do not agree with our proposed new rules, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate:.

I feel competitions with ridiculously simple answers should be banned. They simply exploit the vulnerable and generate profits for the unscrupulous. When I was much younger a degree of skill was always required.

Question 8: a) Do you consider that the introduction of new meanings in relation to competitions and voting are appropriate? b) Do you agree with our proposed new meanings in relation to competitions and voting? c) If you do not agree with our proposed new meanings, please explain why and suggest alternative wording where appropriate:.
