

I am disgusted that companies are allowed to change prices mid at through contract.

Individuals circumstances change which does not allow them to change their contracts based on this. Inflation also affects people's spending power reducing the mount of money we have as individuals yet we have no power to change our terms and conditions.