

Additional comments:

The proposal must be scrapped at all costs. It is appalling that in a society like contemporary British society where many people may not know their neighbors, who are frequently transient, that something as important and as subject to fraud as personal mail is jeopardized by handing it to neighbours. Surely this contravention of people's right to privacy must be addressed with urgency in regards to both Royal Mail and to private delivery companies.

Question 1:Do you agree that Ofcom should grant approval to Royal Mail for the Delivery to Neighbour service? If not please explain your answer. :

Absolutely not! NO!

Many people may not know their neighbors, who are frequently transient. Personal documents in someone else's hands perpetuates fraud and identity theft.

Question 2:Are there other consequences following the roll out of the service across the UK that we have not included in our assessment? If so, please explain.:

Identity theft/ Fraud.

Question 3:Do you have any comments on the scope and wording of the proposed Notification and approval:
