

Shoreline (Retrocadia Ltd): Amended application for a community radio licence

An application from Retrocadia Ltd (“Retrocadia”) for a community radio licence was submitted in October 2015. Ofcom was unable to consider this application within the timeframe set out in our invitation document, and in July 2016 made a decision not to award a licence to Retrocadia. After considering submissions made by Retrocadia relating to the delay in considering this application and to changes to the applicant’s circumstances, Ofcom offered Retrocadia the opportunity to submit an amended version of its application for a community radio licence for fresh consideration. Retrocadia took up this offer and submitted an amended application (attached) on 21 October 2016.

The application by Retrocadia is for an area in Romney Marsh in Kent, where there were no competing applications, for which a frequency has been identified, and where there is no existing locally-focussed radio service.

The amended application is currently under consideration and Ofcom will make a decision in the new year.

December 2016

Community radio licence application form

Version 4

Shoreline (Retrocadia Ltd) - Hythe Bay and Romney Marsh, Kent

1. Station Name	Guidance Notes
What is the proposed station name?	This is the name you expect to use to identify the station on air.
Answer: Shoreline
2. Community to be served	Guidance Notes
Define the community or communities you are proposing to serve. Drawing from various sources of data (e.g. from the Office of Population, Census and Survey) and in relation to your proposed coverage area, please determine the size of the population concerned and the make-up of the population as a whole, along with any relevant socio-economic information that would support your application. (Please tell us the sources of the information you provide.)	It is a legislative requirement that a service is intended primarily to serve one or more communities (whether or not it also serves other members of the public) and we need to understand who comprises that community or communities. The target community will also be specified in the licence, if this application is successful. The legislation defines a 'community' as: people who live or work or undergo education or training in a particular area or locality, or people who have one or more interests or characteristics in common.
The Romney Marsh area of south west Kent is flat, sparsely populated and Britain's only officially designated desert. It covers some 100 square miles but the bulk of the population lives on a coastal strip of 20km from Hythe in the north to Lydd-On-Sea and Dungeness in the south. This creates a transmission problem and we have identified a site 8km from Hythe and 7km from New Romney. The population of this coastal strip is made up of Hythe (14,000), Dymchurch (3,600), New Romney (7,000). With a reasonable power increase we estimate coverage could also include Lydd-On-Sea, Greatstone and Dungeness making a grand population coverage of 33,600. (Details from Census and Council information.) Because of the area's temperate and peaceful location it is a favoured retirement spot with bungalow estates dominating the crescent shaped bay. Major retail facilities are found at New Romney, Hythe and Folkestone – all served by an excellent bus service. Employment opportunities are centred on Dungeness Power Station, agricultural enterprises, the proposed new Lydd airport and tourism. The wild, natural features of the area attract walkers, ornithologists and wildlife enthusiasts. The Romney Marsh Visitor Centre reflects this varied landscape with displays on the ecology of the wetlands and desert areas within this unique community. The landscape has also inspired art and creativity, with many painters, photographers, writers and film makers discovering the haunting beauty of its pastoral views. Our proposed radio service would reflect the rich and varied facets of this delightful partly rural society.

3. Proposed area	Guidance Notes
What is the area you propose to serve?	It is Ofcom policy that community radio stations usually serve an area of up to a 5 kilometre radius from the transmission site. See 'Coverage and planning policy for analogue radio broadcasting services'. http://stakeholders.ofcom.org.uk/binaries/broadcast/radio-ops/coverage/analogue-coverage-policy.pdf
From a transmission site to the east of Dymchurch using 25w in the vertical plane, we would cover Hythe in the north, Dymchurch and St Mary's Bay in the centre and almost down to New Romney in the south. At 50w in the vertical plane we could comfortably cover all of New Romney, Littlestone and parts of Greatstone. With 75w our coverage would be audible in south Greatstone, Lydd, Lydd-On-Sea and Dungeness. We have utilised the website Ircov.crc.ca/main for our coverage prediction – with our aerial at 14m high on the side of a barn at Hagueldands Farm, Burmarsh Road, Dymchurch (TR107306). The Longitude is 51.04857, with latitude = 0.99692.

We are aware of the numerous French local stations that are audible in the area, some of which appear to be evening and weekend pirate operations. Although FM transmission is preferable we would consider, because of the geography of this coastal strip area, an AM service which could also work from the same transmission site, although at a much greater cost (we estimate by a factor of four times for the transmitter) .

Programmes and programme output:

Definitions:

Studio location: The studio from which the service will be broadcast should be located within the licensed area. (In some instances, and by prior written agreement from Ofcom, it may be acceptable for the primary studio to be located outside the licensed area.)

Locally-produced: it is anticipated that most stations will produce the bulk of their output themselves, in the locality. However, for some target communities it may be appropriate for fairly high levels of output to originate from outside the licensed area.

Live output: is that which is produced by a presenter in the studio at the time of broadcast. The amount of live output may vary between different services depending on the needs or expectations of the target community.

Original output: All output specifically produced for this service (but excluding repeats and automated material).

Peak time: it may be helpful to state what material will be broadcast in 'peak time'. If you do, please say what you consider peak time to be for your target community (this may vary from station to station).

Automated output/voice-tracked material: most stations will carry automated output at some time. The amount of automated or voice-tracked material does not need to be specified in the key commitments.

Sustaining service/third party produced material: if you intend to broadcast material produced by a different organisation please state what it is and how much (per day or week as appropriate).

4. Programming output

Guidance Notes

Please fill-in all three questions below

Question A asks you to describe your programme service.

Question B relates to how your output will serve the tastes and interests of your target community.

Question C is about how your service will broaden the range of local (non-BBC) services available in your area.

Later in this form you will be asked to draft your own 'key commitments'. This will form the basis of your licence and is what Ofcom will judge you against. It should include a summary of your proposed programme output as set out below and reflect your commitment to cater for relevant tastes and interests, to broaden the range of relevant programmes and services and to provide a service with a distinct nature and content as set out in the Guidance Notes in the column opposite.

The law requires applicants to state their proposals for providing a service that would:

- (i) cater for the tastes and interests of members of its target community or communities (or for any particular tastes and interests in those communities);
- (ii) broaden the range of programmes available on non-BBC local services (commercial and community stations) to members of the relevant community or communities;
- (iii) broaden the overall range of such non-BBC local services provided in the area concerned; and
- (iv) have a distinct nature, or provide distinct content, from any non-BBC local services with which it would overlap.

Ofcom is required to consider the extent to which an applicant's proposals will cater for the tastes and interests of members of its target community or communities.

Ofcom is also required to consider the extent to which proposals for a community radio station would broaden the range of programmes available by way of non-BBC local services (both commercial and community stations) in the area concerned (especially, the extent to which a proposed service would have a distinct nature or provide distinct content from any overlapping non-BBC local services).

The information given here should be more detailed than what you set out in your draft key commitments (later in this form), and will help us gain a fuller understanding of how you will serve your target community and what the station will sound like.

4. Programming output

A: Please tell us about your programme service. The following questions may help you describe your programme service (but should only be used as a guide):

What will the service sound like?

What music will you play?

What are the main speech elements of the service and how will the social gain/community benefits you propose be reflected on-air?

What is the likely music to speech ratio?

Will this vary at different times of the day or week (or year)?

Do you intend to broadcast live output? If so when and how much do you propose to do?

Will you broadcast in languages other than English (what languages and how much)?

Will your output be original i.e. specifically produced for your service?

Will it be locally produced?

Do you intend to repeat material?

Our service will consist of easy on the ear popular music from the last five decades, together with an abundance of events, what's on information and topical talking points (in English).

Over time we hope to include specialist music and speech programmes, usually for early and mid-evening transmission.

The speech content will come from presenter led topics, local public information announcements, charitable promotions and seasonal health and well being campaigns.

Adding all the ingredients together our aim is to provide a professional, reliable, personable and friendly radio service offering a wide ranging view of life in the area, together with a positive companionship.

Although we have conducted much basic research with groups, it is not until broadcasting commences that specific feedback is likely to be received. Our "sound" on day one is likely to be subtly amended in the light of these comments and views. This process is likely to continue for at least our first 18 months as we introduce changes and additions to refine the schedule. We would wish our service to be popular and appreciated and will listen very carefully to all views and suggestions received.

Our music/speech ration will vary over time with, for instance, more events likely to occur during the summer months. It is difficult to predict a specific ratio as this will depend on the confidence and experience of on air personnel. We won't be a juke box neither will we be Radio 4. We are likely to start with a low speech percentage and gradually increase in the light of feedback from the listeners. From our partnership with two nearby local stations we hope to co-operate and share well produced speech items. We would estimate our daytime speech after a year might be around 20%. We note that on a stopwatch check, the actual presenter spoken words on a national networked commercial station amounted to 1'40" per hour - a figure we are likely to beat within months.

We aim quickly to provide some live programmes, predominantly at breakfast and late afternoon, although this will depend on the availability, reliability and experience of volunteers. Over our first year we would hope to train, and retain, volunteers to cover as many programmes as is possible within our and their time constraints.

Our broadcasts will be in English although, with France only 25 miles away, we may introduce French language learning spots.

Over time we would hope to produce most of our material, but in the early days and over the longer term may take appropriate specialist programmes from our partner radio stations. Certain programmes will be repeated at different times of the day and week to catch different audiences.

B: Based on what you have said above, how will your proposed radio service cater for the tastes and interests of your target community/communities?

Because the locality is a popular retirement area we will work in conjunction with local clubs, societies and charitable organisations. "Age Concern", "U3A" and local libraries have expressed enthusiasm for the radio project and will provide material and promotions to keep all in the area up to date with news, events and entertainments. We will also be pro-active in searching for fresh ideas, suggestions and volunteering opportunities for all ages to live a full and active life in the community. (Further details of partnerships in Section 7)

C: How will your proposed community radio service add to the range of programmes available on non-BBC local services (commercial and community stations) to members of the relevant community or communities, add to the overall range of such services in the area concerned and be different and distinct from them? Please tell us which non-BBC local services your station will overlap with.

Our service will overlap with the Kent wide commercial station KMFM which used to have four distinct editorial areas but now comes from a central studio complex. Also audible in this part of Kent are Smooth, Heart, Absolute and Talk Sport.

The location we propose to cover is not considered a hard news area and is rarely mentioned on either BBC Kent or the regional commercial stations. Our events/what's on promotions service will be unique and the overall 'easy on the ear' musical output will also vastly increase the range in listening choice.

Nearby Folkestone is served by the community station, Academy FM, but their editorial area is solely for this larger conurbation. We have agreed a partnership with this station to share some programmes and relevant interviews.

Social gain

5. Social gain

Guidance Notes

Community radio is required to be for the public good and to bring community benefits, or social gains, to listeners and participants. The requirement for 'social gain,' is one of the key factors that makes community radio stations different from other radio services.

Please tell us what community benefits your service will bring to your target community(ies) and/or the general public. Please include summaries of evidence to support your answer.

Your draft 'key commitments' (later in this form) should include a summary of your proposed social gain set out below.

Broadcasting legislation specifies a number of 'characteristics of community radio services'. Licence holders need to ensure their services conform to these characteristics, including in this case the delivery of social gain.

The legislation sets out social gains that stations must provide. These are the achievement, in respect of individuals or groups of individuals in the target community, or in respect of other members of the public, of the following objectives –

- (a) the provision of a radio service to individuals who are otherwise underserved by such services,*
- (b) the facilitation of discussion and the expression of opinion,*
- (c) the provision (whether by means of programmes included in the service or otherwise) of education or training to individuals not employed by the station, and*
- (d) the better understanding of the particular community and the strengthening of links within it.*

Social gain may also include the achievement of other objectives of a social nature.¹

Applicants are required to provide evidence that their service will result in significant social gain to the public or the target community(ies). Copies of letters or research reports etc. should not be submitted, but brief relevant extracts from them, which represent an accurate and comprehensive summary, may be included. If we wish to see the source material, we will ask for it.

Ofcom is required to have regard to the extent to which your proposed service would result in the delivery of social gain to the public or target community.

The area we propose to serve is a favoured retirement location. There are numerous clubs and societies in existence but many aren't mentioned in the local newspaper. Our service of a relaxing nature will offer music and information across a wide part of this rural region. There is an excellent bus service across Romney Marsh and comfortable travel can take you easily to Ashford, Folkestone, Dover and Canterbury. In the other direction are buses to Rye, Camber Sands and Hastings. This will give us a rich library of information to use in our events service.

Because the area is conducive to retirement, there is a more relaxed feel to life. The retired though are eager to explore new experiences and our service will provide the information and contacts to facilitate these desires.

We aim to use all the social media outlets – e mail, Facebook, Twitter – to make contact with the radio station as simple as possible. Through this we hope to create a friendly open approach to all our listeners.

We will actively seek out untapped talent to produce, for example, written pieces, promotions for their club or favourite activity, lively what's ons, and general news about this particular community. Help will be offered on a practical level as well as suggesting other groups of like minded individuals.

From our local conversations and research, we have found an overwhelming enthusiasm for the project. Frequently mentioned positive topics include a desire to tune in to more melodic music and hear about the area. Negatives include a dislike of repetitive depressing news, and an aversion to a shouting and overly upbeat presentation. Many respondents miss the easy style of Terry Wogan.

The proposed coverage area includes many sparsely populated villages. Hopefully on a daily basis our radio can open up a slightly wider world for travel and stimulation.

We have in place partnerships with a number of useful and related enterprises. As well as sharing skills and financial knowledge, we also hope to reciprocate by helping them. We have an alliance with the Folkestone and Hythe Operatic and Drama Society who can offer experienced amateur thespians for voice work, either in programme presentation or for trailers and promotions. Academy FM is the successful community station in Folkestone which has offered management experience, training modules and financial knowledge connected to this sector. We will also co-share facilities with a highly respected internet station, ChannelRadio.co.uk. This is based at Haguelands Farm, Dymchurch adjacent to our mast site. From here we will share studio, technical facilities and general expertise. From this base we will use all endeavours to provide a varied and welcome addition to the daily life of the area. Through targeted programmes and information we will help sustain the vibrant community spirit leading to social gain and enrichment to this special part of south Kent.

Our local MP, Damian Collins, Chairman of the influential Media, Culture & Sports committee and he has expressed great enthusiasm for our success in this bid.

Access and participation:

6. Participation in the service	Guidance Notes
How do you propose to ensure that members of your target community (or communities) are given opportunities to participate in the operation and management of the service? Your draft 'key commitments' (later in this form) should include a summary of your proposed participation objectives as set out below.	Legislation specifies a number of 'characteristics of community radio services'. Licence holders need to ensure their services conform to these characteristics, including in this case providing opportunities to participate in the operation and management of the service. Ofcom requires information as to how this would be achieved. What will be the involvement of members of the target community in the radio station? How many volunteers do you anticipate will be involved in your service per year?
Listeners will be encouraged to contact the station via all the social media outlets. From this input we can then shape the flow of the day and amend specific points. From my previous time setting up and running a community station in Yorkshire (CR064, Tempo FM. Wetherby), many volunteers wish to enhance and build on their prior experiences. Both the station and the individual gain immensely from this partnership. Some volunteers may wish to participate with writing scripts, learning technical and computer skills and gathering news and information for broadcast. No two volunteers are the same and each will be offered assistance in fulfilling their aims. Ofcom's previous annual reports illustrated the challenges of operating a community station. Hopefully my previous four year's experience in Wetherby has prepared me for this, and together with the media partnerships already now in place, it won't be such a huge learning curve. The number of volunteers will depend on initial interest in the station; time available for each person and a personal commitment to learn new skills. We will actively promote on air the volunteer opportunities and will tailor our mentoring to each individual. We have already built up a bank of enthusiastic talent who are involved in public speaking, for example lecturers, chair persons of heritage projects, the natural world and local clubs and societies. There is much broadcasting talent that has been involved in four previous RSLs in the area plus volunteers at existing community stations and internet radio. At the Wetherby station we found that the number of volunteers gradually increased each year as the station became more well known.

7. Access to facilities and training

Guidance Notes

Set out the practical (formal and informal) mechanisms which you will use to ensure that members of your target community can gain access to your facilities that would be used for the provision of your service and to receive training in their use.

Your draft 'key commitments' (later in this form) should include a summary of your proposed access and objectives for training people in the use of the facilities as set out below.

Ofcom is required by the legislation to have regard to the provision each applicant proposes to make to allow for access by members of the target community to the facilities to be used for the provision of the service and for their training in the use of those facilities.

We will co-share premises with an existing and well established internet station. A specific area will be allocated to our operation with a new studio which will be flexible enough to operate in live, pre-record and training modes. The complex has an office with full internet and telephone facilities. There is an adjacent free car park and there is level access for the disabled to the studio. Also on the estate is a range of retail facilities which may offer future advertising opportunities. Individual training or class sized groups can be accommodated in the established building which is on a long and secure lease. We also hope to establish training classes in outlying districts utilising local community areas. These opportunities will also allow us to pre-record local speakers. Once we have a licence we will establish a network of local correspondents to input events information and local issues – we have already made contact with local newspaper correspondents. A number of locals have already expressed their enthusiasm for such a role.

We will have an approachable manner with all participants and will structure training at convenient times for all parties.

Both managers at Academy FM, Folkestone (David Sharp) and Channel Radio, Dymchurch (Kevin Cann) have indicated a keen willingness for co-operation both in training opportunities and programme sharing.

We now have established links with numerous community groups. These include in Hythe, the Community Cinema, the local Civic Society, the Light Railway which runs from Hythe 14 miles to Dungeness. Age Concern, the British Legion and local church groups have been approached and subsequently expressed enthusiasm. Monica de la Mare from the Cinema Society says, "This will be an excellent way for keeping everyone up to date with our community film programmes." Age Concern, Hythe offered support and said, "Many of our clients are housebound and will really enjoy a local radio service that talks about their locality."

Sandgate has thriving heritage and community groups and both the Chichester Hall and the Sandgate Society have given their support to the project. The head of archives, Jill Partridge, is more than willing to share their audio collection of voices from the past. The past Chairman, Roger Joyce, now heads the area's Heritage and Tourism promotion group. Roger (an innovative architect) and his wife, Liz (a university lecturer) have expressed a desire to be involved in the station's operation.

In Dymchurch the Heritage group has an archive of local information including some audio recordings from the past. The Village Hall has a comprehensive programme and would welcome any extra publicity for their activities and events including the annual amateur pantomime.

Nearby St.Mary's Bay has a well established and active social calendar both in the Village Hall and in the All Saint's Church Hall. Raymond Moses, the organiser at the latter, is very positive about a new radio service.

New Romney has a very strong community spirit, much of it centred around the Kent Wildlife Nature Centre, the Heritage History Centre and the Parish Church. The Vicar of the Church, the Revd. Julie Coleman, looks after a total of eight churches across Romney Marsh. She is very enthusiastic about the concept of a community voice and will be an active ambassador. The Mayor of New Romney, Patricia Rolfe has a background in broadcast sales and marketing and says, "I believe that the idea is a good one and will benefit the residents of Romney Marsh and Hythe - particularly as a 'local' information provider".

In Lydd an active volunteer group runs the local museum and will be delighted to share their knowledge and receive extra publicity for their exhibitions.

With our links to the community already established, we are confident of increased interest in the station and the training opportunities offered from our centrally situated studio and office.

Ensuring accountability:

8. Accountability	Guidance Notes
Please set out your proposed community accountability mechanisms. These should cover matters such as: How will members of your target community: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • make contact with your service, and • influence the operation of the service? How will suggestions or criticisms from members of your target community (or communities) be considered and acted upon? Your draft 'key commitments' (later in this form) should include a summary of your proposed accountability measures as set out below.	Broadcasting legislation specifies a number of 'characteristics of community radio services'. Licence holders need to ensure their services conform to these characteristics. One is that, in respect of the provision of the service, the provider makes itself accountable to the community (or communities) the service is intended to serve. Ofcom is required to have regard to the provision each applicant proposes to make in order to ensure its accountability to the relevant community (or communities).
We aim to make contact with the station as simple as possible. All the usual social media outlets will be used – e mail, Facebook, Twitter. These will be "open" groups so anyone can access the information. All queries and comment are immensely valuable for audience research and will be collated and discussed. Some will be actioned easily, others will be discussed by the steering committee, and outside views may be sought before further action. Complaints will have a response within the shortest time possible, although some may require an investigation or a listen to the logger recording. We will need to take time to consider certain points to ascertain whether they represent one or multiple listener views. Requests for information – such as an event contact phone number, or for the title of a piece of music will be actioned immediately. We will actively broadcast requests for feedback and comment. Only this way will we have a basis for fine tuning and future development. We aim to make involvement a key factor in our annual journey to a progressively more comprehensive service for listeners. Our prime aim is to be of use and help to the area.

Guidance notes: station's draft key commitments

Please draft the Key Commitments for your proposed service. There is a blank key commitments document overleaf. If your organisation is awarded a licence, the key commitments you draft here will form the basis of what we put in the licence. (Please note: this would be subject to Ofcom's agreement, and we may require it to be amended, including, for example, to properly reflect legislative requirements).

Your draft Key Commitments should be consistent with, and summarise the answers you have already given in sections 1-8 of this application form.

It is important that you draft your own commitments, rather than just copying what may have been done by others. You should keep in mind that it will be a condition of any licence to meet the Key Commitments: something you must do at all times and for breach of which you could face sanctions including revocation of the licence. So, you should think carefully about what you will be committing to.

We would expect key commitments to be brief, and no more than two pages long.

KEY COMMITMENTS: to be completed by the applicant

OVERVIEW

Shoreline Radio will serve the middle and older age group across the area of Hythe Bay and Romney Marsh. It will offer a voice for the the more mature and will highlight the positive aspects of life. The service will offer uplifting, nostalgic entertainment that blends music, humour and memories with current events information. The service will actively promote the many and varied local community initiatives.

The service will broadcast -

- Music. This will be a blend of easy listening tunes predominantly from the 1950s to 1970s but will also include more contemporary tracks that have a similar sound.
- Speech. The main types of speech during the week will be events information, volunteering opportunities and tips for keeping healthy and active. Topical news, local weather and tide times will also be featured.
- The service will provide original output (as defined in 1) for a minimum of 10 hours per day.
- The service will provide locally-produced output (as defined in 2) for a minimum of 12 hours per day.

We have no plans to utilise a sustaining service or a satellite/internet feed of programmes.

The studio is located in the heart of the licensed coverage area.

The service will provide a full range of community benefits and social gain for the target community, achieving -

- the facilitation of discussion and the expression of opinion.
- the provision, within on air programmes and off air, of education and training to volunteer individuals.
- the better understanding of the particular community and the strengthening of links within it.

Members of the target community will contribute to the operation and management of the service.

The service will have mechanisms in place to ensure it is accountable, responsive and in tune with its target community.

Our aim is to provide an easy on the ear comprehensive radio service for this diverse area. The choice of music and talk items will reflect the lifestyle and pace of the area.

Contained within Kent's Romney Marsh is a myriad of eclectic interests. It is a popular retirement area as well as containing much artistic and natural world endeavour. The haunting beauty of the flat landscape belies an intriguing mix of nature and wildlife which has long inspired art in its broadest sense.

Our service will reflect the varied passions across the area as well as providing a comprehensive package of health and lifestyle information.

Volunteers will be invaluable in the way different interest groups are reflected on air.

Training in radio production will be provided at a pace that is commensurate with individual's time, aptitude and energy.

Communication with the station will be as simple as possible with public access to our email address, Facebook and Twitter accounts. Any comments and queries will be answered in a time scale that reflects the urgency. Some complaints for instance will require listening to the logger recording followed by subsequent clarification from specific volunteers.

Over our first 18 month period , we will listen and act on comments in order to fine tune the output to better reflect listener preferences. Once we feel confident that we are “in tune” with our listeners, we can start to look at longer term ambitions such as outside broadcasts and perhaps satellite studios in public buildings. Radio never stops evolving and our ear will always be sensitive to fresh ideas.

Our management team will be in constant communication via group email and we will have meetings at convenient times. My previous experience at CR064 Tempo FM, Wetherby suggests that It was always preferable to reach out to various groups and clubs to engage in open discussion.

14. Applicant's experience	Guidance Notes
Please describe the history of your group, and any relevant experience of the group, or the individuals within the group, by answering the questions below.	Ofcom is required to consider whether an applicant has the ability to run a community radio station for the licence period (up to five years). To aid our consideration we want to know about any relevant experience the applicant group as a whole, or the individuals involved, may have.
A. Please provide a brief history of your group.
The group was formed three years ago when it became clear that Ofcom was likely to invite applications for the South East region. We have had regular meetings and consultations about how to run a successful station in the most cost effective way. Our group contains vast knowledge in technical and computer skills plus radio programming experience in news and music presentation.
B. Please summarise the group's broadcasting experience (e.g. internet radio, Restricted Service Licences (RSLs)).
Broadcasting experience from the group includes stints on sixties stations, followed by BBC Local, Independent Commercial radio, ITV and BBC TV, RSL's, Community Radio and numerous internet stations. Individual experience is listed in section 12.
C. Please summarise the relevant experience of the group or its members, in relevant non-broadcast areas (such as third sector, local business, fund-raising, training or education).
Robert Preedy – operated two successful independent cinemas in Yorkshire over a 21 year period. Written and produced 25 non-fiction books (including 12 for specific publishers). Engaged for three years as Rides Co-Ordinator/Researcher at Dreamland Amusement Park, Margate. Recently completed a 100,000 word study on the history of British Amusement Parks. Trained as an accountant. Now operates a series of monthly film and social events across the broadcast area in Hythe, Dymchurch, St.Mary's Bay, Sandgate, Saltwood and Aldington. Mike Thompsett – full time computer programmer. Set up the technical and studio aspects of internet station ChannelRadio.co.uk. Andrew Cadier – worked in the voluntary and charity sector for many years. He has extensive media contacts in the area.
D. Please summarise the radio broadcasting experience of key individuals in the applicant group (only if not already described above).
A précis of broadcasting experience can be found in section 12.

Evidence of demand:

15. Demand and/or support	Guidance Notes
Please provide a summary of evidence of demand	When considering community radio licence

and/or support for your proposed service. This may include a variety of information, for example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • summary of support from statutory or voluntary sector organisations which expect to contribute practically and/or financially to your operations, or which would expect to collaborate with you in joint activities; • evidence of interest generated through radio activity (e.g. RSLs, internet radio), community activity, training, voluntary sector work etc.; • results of research; • summary of support from local politicians, councils, educational or religious bodies etc.; • summary of support from local business or other sectors; • evidence of support from your proposed target community. 	applications, Ofcom is required to take into account the extent of local demand for, or support for, the provision of the proposed service. It is for applicants to decide what evidence of demand or support they wish to submit. However, Ofcom does not believe that generic support for the establishment of a new radio service is as meaningful as evidence of considered support for a specific applicant's proposals. This means that Ofcom does not attach great value to numerous examples of similar generic or form letters of support by your group, or to petitions. Copies of letters or research reports etc. should not be submitted. However, your response here may include brief relevant extracts from such material and must represent an accurate and comprehensive summary of any such supporting evidence. If we wish to see the source material, we will ask for it.
A number of organisations have expressed enthusiasm for the formation of a radio station in the area. These include Age Concern, Hythe and the local U3A group of active retirees. The active nature and history groups, Romney Marsh Countryside partnership, Dungeness Conservation Society, the Romney Marsh Walking Society, Lydd Town Museum, Cat's Protection and the RSPB Dungeness groups all offer enthusiastic support. Our local MP, Damian Collins, Chairman of the House of Commons Media, Culture & Sport Committee, has a media background and has expressed enthusiasm in helping us in any way he is able. Peter Heselden is the chairman of the Folkestone and Hythe Operatic and Dramatic Society. His community theatre has a packed list of productions all year round. He can see the advantage of a partnership. We can provide publicity for this amateur group and in return he is able to provide experienced actors and actresses for speech roles within the station. David Sharp, manager at community station, Academy FM, Folkestone is keen on a partnership which could include sharing management knowledge, financial matters, programme sharing and possibly joint airtime sales. The experience so far at Academy FM is that the recent concession to sell up to £15,000 worth of advertising is proving very popular with small companies. We may be able to form a joint air time sales group with the station. Local businesses in our proposed area are likely to respond with the same enthusiasm. Already a number of independent Estate Agents are keen to discuss publicity opportunities. The directors at ChannelRadio.co.uk wish to work with us, again sharing experiences and a number of high quality programmes. Over the past two years participants in our conversation and focus groups have shared their present listening habits. Summing up the responses to our research – there is listening to a broad range of stations, although very little to Absolute Radio which has a 2kw transmitter on Romney Marsh. BBC Radio Kent seems to be cherry picked for weather and some travel information, with the bulk of respondents say they prefer the half hour local TV news at 6.30pm. There is a growing interest in DAB with “Magic, London” the clear winner, but many listeners tend to use their pre-sets to switch to certain daily feature and drama programmes on BBC Radio 4 (at the same time avoiding the main Radio 4 news programmes at breakfast, lunch and teatime.) Because of the proximity to mainland France, a few listeners tune in to local stations in Calais, Boulogne and Dunkirk. Some listen to Classic FM but non mentioned BBC Radio 3. Possibly due to the older demographics of the area, very few listen to the Kent commercial station KMFM. Radio 2 has mainly daytime listening, avoiding the breakfast offering. Our proposed easy listening and informative style will greatly increase listening choice in the area through an engaging mix of easy listening music with an up to date, informative and engaging range of speech items.

Ability to maintain the service – financial information:16. Pre-launch financial information

In assessing an applicant's ability to maintain the service we need to know what funds and assets it holds, how much it intends to spend getting the station on-air (pre-launch expenditure), and predicted funding for the pre-launch period. Please note 'in-kind' income is dealt with in 18 below.

PLEASE WITHHOLD INFORMATION

17. Year 1 financial information - income

Please provide information on the predicted income for your first year of broadcasting. N.B. there is a legislative restriction on income from on-air advertising and sponsorship/commercial references (in summary, each station is allowed a 'fixed revenue allowance' of £15,000 per year from paid-for advertising and sponsorship; some stations may also be allowed up to 50% of their total relevant information per year (i.e. disregarding the fixed revenue allowance). See the 'Invitation of applications for community radio licences' for your region for further information).

Please withhold this information.

18. Financial information – in-kind support

Please provide totals that reflect the in-kind support you expect to receive for the pre-launch period, and for year one. You may count some volunteer input as in-kind support – please see our guidance on this <http://stakeholders.ofcom.org.uk/binaries/broadcast/radio-ops/volunteerinput.pdf>

Engineering notes

We require preliminary radio frequency (r.f.) engineering information and applicants are advised that this section is not intended to be exhaustive. We are asking for the basic engineering parameters necessary to determine the extent of frequency availability in an applicant's chosen area (after taking account of the requirements of neighbouring broadcasters); and to determine whether the proposed service area can be adequately served from this site. As a result, applicants should note the importance of identifying a transmission site that is suitable for the area they wish to serve.

While Ofcom would not wish applicants to go to unnecessary expense (we do not guarantee the availability of a suitable frequency and/or our ability to allocate it for broadcasting from the chosen transmission site), we do require precise details about the transmission site chosen. The questions following relate to this.

Applicants should provide evidence of negotiations or agreement with the site owner (e.g. whether a provisional agreement is in place). Any licence award will be based on the coverage area from the site identified in the application. If a licence is offered, Ofcom may not be able to agree to a change from the site put forward in this application (and any request for a change will need to be justified).

Applicants should read and be aware of the relevant part of the Ofcom Site Engineering Code which may be found at: http://stakeholders.ofcom.org.uk/broadcasting/guidance/tech-guidance/eng_code/

Community radio stations typically have a coverage area of up to a 5 kilometre radius. Please see Ofcom's 'Coverage and planning policy for analogue broadcasting services' (including community radio) <http://stakeholders.ofcom.org.uk/binaries/broadcast/radio-ops/coverage/analogue-coverage-policy.pdf>
