Additional comments:

Question 6.5: Do you agree with Ofcom's proposals for an index-linked safeguard cap on standard letters from 45p to 55p? If not, please provide reasons.:

Stamp price seems too dear.

Question 6.6: Do you agree with Ofcom's proposal that the approach outlined above remains in place for seven years? If not, please provide reasons.:

Ofcom need to maintain control forever as if Royal Mail can dump universal service in order to max profits for shareholders and directors THEY WILL Dump universal service.

Question 7.1: Do you agree with our approach to assessing end-to-end competition? If not, please give your reasons.:

The other private companies are bad and rob Royal Mail of money that if Royal Mail were allowed to compete on level field ,Royal Mail could run Very well and KEEP PRICES DOWN.By still allowing a unfair field even with your ideas, you will end up pushing Royal Mail into a situation that prices will have to go up.This will also lead to Royal Mail losing work.

Question 7.2: Do you agree with Ofcom's proposals to impose an obligation on Royal Mail to provide access at the Inward Mail Centre? If not, please give reasons.:

I do not think Royal Mail should provide a loss or even made deal for other companies to use. Royal Mail need to make a profit out of these companies in order to keep prices down for normail service(stamps etc...)
