

Question 1:Do you agree that Ofcom should grant approval to Royal Mail for the Delivery to Neighbour service? If not please explain your answer. :

No. I do not want my neighbours knowing who is writing to me or working out my business. Can neighbours be trusted? I live somewhere where neighbours are very hostile towards my family. I do not know why, it is possibly racist but this means I do not benefit from community cooperation. There is a cost involved, travelling to town, parking etc.

Question 2:Are there other consequences following the roll out of the service across the UK that we have not included in our assessment? If so, please explain.:

Firstly, Royal Mail must be forced to ensure that those delivering mail ring door bells and knock on doors. My family have on more than one occasion seen someone write out a card and make no attempt whatsoever to try to deliver the mail. This is common practice and extends beyond RM. Where this happens in future we will make a charge to RM.

Question 3:Do you have any comments on the scope and wording of the proposed Notification and approval:
