Dear,

Freedom of Information request: Right to know request

Thank you for your request for information concerning Community radio stations in Northern Ireland.

We received this request on 23 April 2025 and we have considered your request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Your request

- 1 A list of all community station broadcasting on DAB in Northern Ireland and a link/copy to their key commitments?*
- 2 Are these DAB stations under the same conditions as other community stations, for example how long is their licence, how many extensions are they allowed etc?*

Our response

1. We publish a list of all licensed Community Digital Sound Programme (C-DSP) licences on our website. C-DSP licences are for community stations broadcasting on DAB. The Key Commitments for each C-DSP licence can be found under within each licensee licensee record on our website.
2. C-DSP licences have different conditions compared to analogue community radio stations. Information regarding licence conditions and licence duration is published within our guidance notes for applicants. We also have an example licence on our website where you can see the licence conditions of a C-DSP.

There is no end date to a C-DSP licence and therefore no licence extensions are required. As stated in our guidance notes “The licence remains in force from the commencement date until it is surrendered by the licensee or revoked by Ofcom.” (5.17)

I hope this information is helpful. If you have any further queries, then please send them to information.requests@ofcom.org.uk – quoting the reference number above in any future communications.

Yours sincerely,

Information Requests
