Freedom of Information request: Right to know request

Thank you for your request for information about amateur radio licence conditions.

We received this request on 30 June 2026 and we have considered your request under the Environmental Information Regulations 2004 ("the EIR").

Your request

Can you please provide information about the number of occasions OFCOM have visited radio amateurs in the last 5 years to assess compliance with the radio amateur licence conditions.

Our response

---

We have interpreted your request to ask for the number of visits to radio amateur licence holders in the last 5 years to assess EMF compliance.

Within the specified timeframe, we confirm there were a total of 53 visits.

Please note, all radio amateurs are responsible for carrying out EMF testing using our tools available on our website.

For more information on EMF compliance and how we measure EMF exposure, please refer to our website here: Electromagnetic fields.

Yours sincerely,

Information Requests

Request an internal review

If you are unhappy with the response you have received to your request for information, or think that your request was refused without a reason valid under the law, you may ask for an internal review. If you do, it will be subject to an independent review within Ofcom. We will either uphold the original decision, or reverse or modify it.

If you would like to ask us to carry out an internal review, you should get in touch within two months of the date of this letter. There is no statutory deadline for us to complete our internal review, and the time it takes will depend on the complexity of the request. But we will try to complete the review within 20 working days (or no more than 40 working days in exceptional cases) and keep you informed of our progress. Please email the Information Requests team (information.requests@ofcom.org.uk) to request an internal review.

Taking it further

If you are unhappy with the outcome of our internal review, then you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office.
