

Small villages like ours in the Cotswolds must not be overlooked. We have always suffered with poor mobile signals. Adequate broadband speeds are essential and should be provided.