

Latency must be part of the obligation requirements. As a worker from home I know that high latency would make my working from home impossible. Low speed is manageable, but high latency is not.

If I had to put a figure to maximum latency I would say 0.5 seconds.