

Sir, it is ridiculous in this day and age that many are struggling to use our phones in certain areas. I live in Harmston village South of Lincoln and despite changing between most of the providers (currently with O2 through Tesco) still cannot get a signal. Surely this is a matter of where the aerials are situated and pressure should be applied to those responsible for their positioning.. Regards B D Hamilton