Question 1: Do you have any comments on the proposed material modifications to the information requested in the number application form? In considering this question, please refer to the explanation of the proposals set out in Section 3 and the proposed modifications to the number application form as highlighted in blue in the schedule to the draft Direction in Annex 3.:

I have no real issue with applying on-line for numbers and can even see that it will be easier than sending in the current forms. However I don't want the new system to become more onerous than the current one. For example with the current system it is possible to refer to previously supplied information rather than re-supplying it. This practice should continue unless circumstances have changed. The idea should be to make the new system easier to use and also result in a faster turn-around of applications.

Question 2: Do you have any comments on our view as to how the proposed modifications meet the relevant legal tests? :

None.
