

Ian Doherty response

Do you have any comments on our proposals?

I stand by Ofcoms proposals to no longer build up the Local TV networks. Furthermore, I would recommend that the current on air local TV channels have their requirements laxed, so long as when they need to be a local network, they can be. This would allow them to better use their resources and funding to bring better local programming (albeit lesser) and continue to survive in the multichannel market.