

I believe you're collecting opinions on whether EPGs should talk? Well, as somebody with no sight, if they don't talk then none of the features are available to me. Planning what I want to watch because it has AD or even just knowing what will be on next is impossible without them talking. I believe all devices should have this feature, not just the expensive high end TV's or satellite boxes. I should not be forced into buying the more expensive product just because of my disability.

I hope this helps in your consultation.

Best wishes
Joanna
