

i believe this proposal removes the right of innocent untill proven guilty as there is a fee to be paid by the end user before you can appeal a charge effectivly fining all and anybody before having a chance to prove innocence