

I'm concerned that the Initial Obligations Code does not make it clear what is expected from public Wifi providers.

I often use public Wifi access when travelling, and I'm worried that the Digital Economy Act will reverse the trend of businesses opening up wifi access for customers.