

I often have to get online while out and about. Many restaurants offer patrons free wifi access - so I can go to McDonalds or KFC for a coffee, and do the important tasks that otherwise may prove impossible. If the proposals go through, KFC etc will likely no longer give patrons internet access. And this will hurt individuals, companies, and ultimately the nation's economics.