What do you want Ofcom to keep confidential?

Keep nothing confidential

Additional comments:

It appears that this consultation has had the fate of so many others in that it has not been widely publicised presumably in an attempt to reduce negative feedback. These are important issues for everyone and should not be introduced via the back door.

Question 1: Are there any reasonable grounds why Ofcom should not grant the request to vary the five Wireless Telegraphy Third Generation Mobile Licences by increasing the permitted maximum in-band EIRP to 68dBm as soon as practicable? If so, please explain your reasoning for this:

Yes. It is widely recognised that mobile phone radiation is harmful to all forms of life. Other countries are cutting down the allowable levels. Why do people think that England is immune?

We should therefore definitely not raise the permitted maximum EIRP but rather reduce it.

IT IS HAZARDOUS TO HEALTH

Question 2: Are there any reasonable grounds why Ofcom should not also apply the increased permitted maximum in-band EIRP to future 2 GHz MSS/CGC licences? If so, please explain your reasoning for this:

As above
