

I favour option 2 and 3 - there is not enough audio description on TV for my blind 9 year old son to access tv like his friends and I would like there to be a large increase in the output of AD on all channels

I would also like for AD to be much more accessible for normal tvs without us having to buy expensive sets or adaptations

Thank you