

Question 1: Which of the three options do consultees favour, and why?:

Option 2 - I am totally blind and it makes a difference as to whether I watch a programme. It also makes me feel more inclusive in society, being able to discuss TV with my family, friends and work colleagues.

Question 2: Do consultees have any further suggestions for future access service provision? If so please provide the rationale for these suggestions:

I would like to see all TV companies, which show TV programmes past and present on the Internet include Audio Description for many programmes as possible. For instance, I now watch Audio Described programmes on the BBC IPlayer. This saves having to record the programme on video, where the video is not accessible to me to select the Audio Description part.
