

Question 1: Which of the three options do consultees favour, and why?:

Ofcom should implement option 2. This would result in all channels providing audio description on 20 per cent of their output. I think raising the target to 20 per cent would significantly increase blind and partially sighted people's enjoyment of TV.

Question 2: Do consultees have any further suggestions for future access service provision? If so please provide the rationale for these suggestions:
