

Question 1: Which of the three options do consultees favour, and why?:

Option 2

Question 2: Do consultees have any further suggestions for future access service provision? If so please provide the rationale for these suggestions:

Comments:

20% appears a very achievable target for most channels and I'm sure that the most watched channels e.g. BBC must already exceed this. I think however it is right that a rather nominal target of 10% should be at least doubled and this should be enshrined in law to reflect the long-awaited respect television channels are slowly beginning to show to their visually impaired consumers.
