

Question 1: Which of the three options do consultees favour, and why?:

2. I feel that 20% across all the channels is the minimum that we in the UK should be implementing. Watching TV is a major leisure activity for blind and partially sighted people. I think the UK should be working towards an inclusive society for all disabled people. Increased availability of AD means that blind and partially sighted people can be as fully involved in the same Television programmes as their sighted peers

Question 2: Do consultees have any further suggestions for future access service provision? If so please provide the rationale for these suggestions:

Comments: