Dear Rhona Parry,

Re: Committee on the Administration of Justice (CAJ) response to the consultation: Ofcom's Second Public Service Broadcasting Review - Phase One: The Digital Opportunity consultation

The Committee on the Administration of Justice (CAJ) is an independent non-governmental organisation affiliated to the International Federation of Human Rights. Our membership is drawn from across the whole community. CAJ is a former recipient of the Council of Europe Human Rights prize.

As you are aware, the main political parties in Northern Ireland have supported Local Public Service Television and signed the Early Day Motion 1013 which looks to 'the Department of Culture, Media and Sport to introduce a licence for the provision of local public service television during the rollout of digital switchover'.

<http://edmi.parliament.uk/EDMi/EDMDetails.aspx?EDMID=35211&SESSION=891>

During the passage of the Communications Act, nine Northern Irish MPs supported "the important contribution community media can make to social inclusion, neighbourhood renewal, citizens' participation, local democracy and lifelong learning and called on the Government to include specific measures for the further growth and development of community media which would include distinct licensing arrangements based on clear public service obligations, reservation of broadcast spectrum, guaranteed access to cable channels and the establishment of a community media fund to help finance start up, development and operating costs". (EDM1316)

In response to your consultation we would recommend that Ofcom consider acceptance of local community television as public service broadcasters.

In relation to the development of local television in Belfast, we should be grateful if Ofcom would support NvTv being carried on Freeview as a local public service broadcaster. Such a development would ensure that everyone in the city has access to a valuable local service that has a track record in supporting the efforts of all of us who are working to create a socially inclusive society as well as nurturing the city's cultural and creative assets and talent.

Yours sincerely

Mike Ritchie
Director
