Question 1: To what extent do you consider that DTT, DSat, cable and IPTV are in competition with one another for subscribers of pay TV services ? either at present or in the future?:

Only to the extent of the "groupings" of channels. You buy the same channels but repackaged in different ways. Therefore competition is in a way limited

Question 2: To what extent do you consider the Proposal is likely to deliver benefits to the consumer?:

They will not as will have to pay out more!

Question 3: To what extent do you consider that there is scope for sustainable competition in pay TV on the DTT platform and, more broadly, across all pay TV platforms?:

Limited scope. Not sustainable. Freeview platform should be free with input from all main pay channels.

Question 4: What are likely to be the key aspects of competition between providers of retail pay TV services on the DTT platform? E.g. what is the role of premium sports and movies content?:

Rebundled content. Premium sports is a con. Sports should be available free. What would happen if there was say a premium "Eastenders" channel? There would be an outcry!

Question 5: Do you consider that if Sky were to become the only provider of pay TV on the DTT platform it would be likely to have a significant detrimental effect on competition in the long term? How might this affect the development of other platforms for the delivery of pay TV services?:

Yes, because they could set prices!

Question 6: To what extent, if at all, do you consider that the Proposal would be likely to lead to any of the public policy concerns outlined at Section 4?:

d/k

Question 7: Specifically, to what extent do you consider that the Proposal would be likely to lead to consumer confusion?:

d/k

Question 8: To what extent do you consider that it is beneficial for consumers to be able to obtain Sky and existing DTT pay TV content without having to purchase separate STBs?:

yes, most definately

Question 9: Do you consider that the Proposal might lead to any additional public policy concerns:

d/k

Question 10: If Sky becoming the only provider of pay TV services on the DTT platform were likely to have a significant detrimental effect on competition, do you consider that it is possible to address this through a set of additional conditions and/or directions? If so, what form should those conditions/directions take?:

Ofcom should set limitations on cost.
