Question 1: To what extent do you consider that DTT, DSat, cable and IPTV are in competition with one another for subscribers of pay TV services ? either at present or in the future?:

The situation continues to get worse. All smaller operators are being systematically squeezed out.

Question 2: To what extent do you consider the Proposal is likely to deliver benefits to the consumer?:

There are no benefits only drawbacks.

Question 3: To what extent do you consider that there is scope for sustainable competition in pay TV on the DTT platform and, more broadly, across all pay TV platforms?:

Pay TV has very few advantages due to the primary concern being the generation of large sums of money.

Question 4: What are likely to be the key aspects of competition between providers of retail pay TV services on the DTT platform? E.g. what is the role of premium sports and movies content?:

In no time at all there will be no competition so this question has no relevance.

Question 5: Do you consider that if Sky were to become the only provider of pay TV on the DTT platform it would be likely to have a significant detrimental effect on competition in the long term? How might this affect the development of other platforms for the delivery of pay TV services?:

If Sky do get into DTT they will neutralise all others organisations in next to no time.

Question 6: To what extent, if at all, do you consider that the Proposal would be likely to lead to any of the public policy concerns outlined at Section 4?:

Where/what is Section 4 ?

Question 7: Specifically, to what extent do you consider that the Proposal would be likely to lead to consumer confusion?:

The public are confused already never mind more changes.

Question 8: To what extent do you consider that it is beneficial for consumers to be able to obtain Sky and existing DTT pay TV content without having to purchase separate STBs?:

They ought to be kept separate.

Question 9: Do you consider that the Proposal might lead to any additional public policy concerns:

Yes the decline of the BBC and to a lesser extent ITV.

Question 10: If Sky becoming the only provider of pay TV services on the DTT platform were likely to have a significant detrimental effect on competition, do you consider that it is possible to address this through a set of additional conditions and/or directions? If so, what form should those conditions/directions take?:

Yes, but ONLY if I wrote the conditions.
