Question 1:When do you consider it would be timely and efficient for next generation access investment to take place in the UK?:

In the next 2-5 years.

Question 2: Do you agree with the principles outlined for regulating next generation access?:

I agree with it mostly but I think that there should be clarification of download limitations that are imposed on even casual users which have in my experience given many people enforced low bandwidth. So called ?special measures? which various companies put into measure on undefined amounts downloaded by a user are scandalous. This can cripple the usefulness of much of the internet for everyday use.

Question 3: How should Ofcom reflect risk in regulated access terms?:

Give unrestriced accese for a few years or a proportional amount of freedom to amount of people connected to the new network. maybe a tax incentive?

Question 4: Do you agree with the need for both passive and active access remedies to promote competition?:

very much

Question 5: Do you consider there to be a role of direct regulatory or public policy intervention to create artificial incentives for earlier investment in next generation access?:

I do.
